Laub's raises upheld

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A last-ditch effort failed to stop raises in the township assessor's office. Action to delete the raises failed 6 to 9 Tuesday night.

TRUSTEES MET WITH Assessor Darlene Laub last week to ask her to postpone raises until negotiations with city employees end.

She refused. The raises represent a yearly increase of $1,200 for six employees and a $282 yearly increase for two others.

The Town Board could not mandate how the assessor allocates her budget money, only how much money she can have in her budget, said William Schooley Jr., township attorney.

BECAUSE of Schooley's opinion a request was made for a more detailed accounting of the township budget. The request got board approval.

Lumping all of the worker's salaries into one figure may have fooled some trustees, Trustee Woody Moad said. Raises in the budget may not have been apparent, he said.

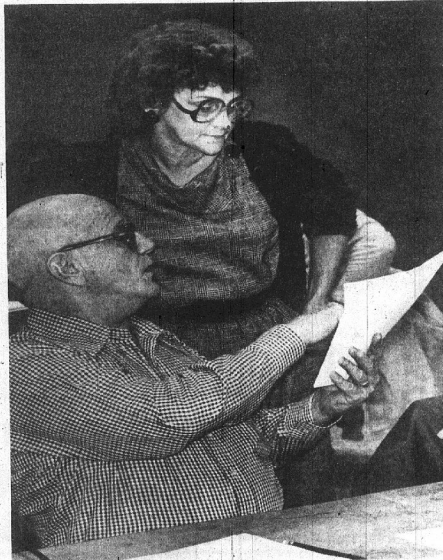

Trustees will see future wage increases proposed for each worker.

A LINE-ITEM breakdown by salary would reduce confusion, Trustee Sam Whitmer said. It was apparent, though, that raises were in the budget for the assessor's office at the time it was passed, he said.

"I know there were raises in the budget," he said. "I just didn't vote to delete them because I think they are fair."

"Some people want to sleep on this council floor and they're just now waking up."

WHITMER SUGGESTED that the line-item request include the city budget.

WAGE DISCUSSION. Darlene Laub, Granite City Township assessor, explains to Trustee Sam Whitmer, how pay raises are awarded in her office. Laub did not agree to withhold the raises, despite requests from several members of the Town Board.

Civil defense director tagged Restaurant owner gets top job

GRANITE CITY — The new civil defense director is Dick Ervay, owner of Ervay's Restaurant, 2220 Pontoon Road.

Ervay was approved Tuesday to take over for Harold Mayfield, who resigned as head of civil defense Oct. 31.

MAYOR VON DEE CRUSE made no comment on his appointment of Ervay at the meeting. He said earlier there had been about 50 persons requesting the position.

Alderman Sam Whitmer, 2nd Ward, voted against confirming the appointment of Ervay. He said earlier he feels Mayfield was forced out of his office for political reasons. When contacted Wednesday, Ervay said he had no plans to make changes in the civil defense organization. He said will use Vic Koenig, the civil defense director from 1962 to 1984, as his adviser.

HIS RESTAURANT business will not interfere with his duties as civil defense director, he said.

"I have a store manager, and I'll be in the restaurant every morning, but I'll be spending a lot more of my time in the civil defense department," he said.

Raised in Elmira, N.Y., Ervay entered the U.S. Army in 1942. He served in the infantry for four years and then attended non-commissioned officers school at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, graduating with the rank of sergeant.

HE CAME TO THIS area in 1947, when he took a job as sales manager for Benred Meat Co., Wood River.

Ervay served as a weapons instructor for the civil defense auxiliary police in 1965 and 1966.

He is a past potentate of Almad Temple Shriners.

Dogs, cats, beware in Madison

MADISON — Residents will be allowed to have only two pet animals at their residence, according to action taken by aldermen Tuesday night.

Those who wish to have a pet destroyed will be required to pay a $20 fee, according to the ordinance. The $20 is not a charge by the city but is the amount paid to the Madison County rabies control staff, William Gushel said. The alderman presided in the absence of Mayor John Belleco.

IF A FAMILY has more than two animals, it will be required to obtain a kennel license, conforming with a state law, City Health Inspector Vasil Gravelle said.

Prior to the council meeting, the ordinance committee met to study city laws and regulations in conjunction with possible building of railroad boxcar or modular homes within the city limits.

"We are not against this type of home as long as it does not depreciate the value of other properties and is within the guidelines of city ordinances," Gushel said. Officials believe it is possible they may receive a request to approve such homes, but none has been received.

Gushel asked that committee members meet again at 6:30 p.m. prior to the next council meeting Dec. 3. The session will be open to the public, he said.

JOHN DUTKO, city building inspector, reported 20 permits were issued within a two-week period. Construction of a new business at Fifth and State streets is progressing when weather permits, he said.

The building will house Sterling

Service, a food firm and vending service for office refreshments. The company is owned by Leonard Reft.

Aldermen approved a request of Consolidated Network, Inc. for authority to install an underground cable 42 inches deep under Washington Avenue where it intersects with the Terminal Railroad right-of-way. The company is to assume all expenses and restore the area to its original condition after the installation.

City bills amounting to $40,074 for Nov. 6 to Nov. 19 were approved, along with bills for the playground and recreation program from Oct. 15 to Nov. 11 totaling $3,462.

THE CITY RECEIVED a check for $4,624 from Willard Portell, clerk of the circuit court, as its portion of

Strike hits Precoat

GRANITE CITY — A union strike at Precoat Metals virtually shut down production at the plant early this week.

John Martin, a member of the negotiating committee for Machinists Lodge 41, said plant representatives started running the production Wednesday. Until that time, there was no steel coating performed since last Friday.

Larry Swaney, president of Precoat Metals, confirmed the company was doing "whatever possible" to normalize activities at the plant.

No "problems" were expected with the management running line operations, he said.

"I'm not expecting any trouble from the union," Swaney said. "I hope the law will be observed."

The contract with the 57 union employees at Precoat expired Nov. 15, Swaney said. The basis for the strike is economics.

Swaney said confusion caused members of the bargaining unit to turn down the company's offer Saturday, resulting in the strike.

"They didn't perceive what was in the proposal," he said. "There are raises guaranteed ... in excess of 12

BELLELEVILLE — Competition among area Democrats for the 21st District's Congressional seat will likely not include St. Clair County Board Chairman Jerry Costello.

Costello plans to support incumbent U.S. Rep. Mel Price, D-East St. Louis, said Terry Beach, an aide to Costello. The St. Clair County screening committee also will support Price, 80, in the March primary, Beach said Wednesday.

The St. Clair County Board chairman will seek re-election to his present post in 1986, Costello announced Tuesday.

However, if Price backs out of the primary, Costello might get involved.

"If Mel does not run, Jerry will hold that option open," Beach said. Costello, 36, challenged Price briefly in the 1981 Democratic primary and then backed out in the interest of party unity.

Costello reportedly was in contact with Price several times before Costello made the announcement that he would not oppose Price in the primary.

Two Madison County officials, Auditor Pete Fields and Recorder of Deeds Ron Lucas, have announced plans to file for Congress in the March 1986 Democratic primary.

At a Democratic Party picnic in June sponsored by Madison County elected officials, Price confirmed he intended to seek his 32nd term in the House.

Dramatic rescue

EMERGENCY PERSONNEL remove Kenneth Wilson from his severely-damaged tractor-trailer cab Wednesday morning. The Belleville man was trapped in the crushed vehicle for 45 minutes while Venice volunteer firefighters cut off the top of the cab to extricate him. Details appear on page 6.

'Newsboy' hit by car

GRANITE CITY — A man selling newspapers for Old Newsboy Day was struck and injured by an automobile at the intersection of 23rd Street and Madison Avenue shortly before 8 a.m. today.

E. David Whitsell, 70, of 4004 Vesce Ave. suffered a fractured left leg and a laceration to the back of his head. His back and neck were also injured, but the extent of these injuries were not known.

WHITSELL WAS hit by a car driven by James D. Murphy, 2468 Parkview Drive. Murphy told police he was turning right from Madison onto 23rd, but was blinded by the sunlight and did not see Whitsell in the roadway.

An unidentified witness, who was driving west on 23rd Street, said he called Whitsell to bring him a newspaper. When Whitsell turned around, he was struck.

Whitsell was transported to St. Elizabeth Medical Center by a Granite City ambulance.

THERE HAVE BEEN no charges filed against the driver in the case.

Members of local charitable and fraternal groups distributed newspapers this morning as part of an annual fund-raising program to help health and welfare agencies.

Tax share on its way

Madison County taxing districts will receive a financial "shot-in-the-arm" within the next few weeks, when Treasurer Michael "Mick" Henkhaus begins distributing roughly $700,000 in back interest on local tax money to the districts.

A Sangamon County Circuit Court judge entered the order for distribution Nov. 1. Henkhaus since has received notification of the order.

THE MONEY HAS been kept in an escrow account since a 1983 Illinois Supreme Court decision which said counties cannot keep the interest earned on local tax money between collection and distribution.

Henkhaus said the judge recently approved his formula for distributing the interest. Henkhaus will take all taxing districts and divide their respective levies into 100 to come up with a percentage. The districts will receive that percentage of the $700,000.

In this way, Henkhaus said, districts with higher levies will get a larger share of the interest.

THERE IS actually about $825,000 in the escrow account, of which ap-

Diabetes group opens its first Illinois branch

The Greater St. Louis Affiliate of the American Diabetes Association opened its first Illinois branch office in Madison County, at Alton Memorial Hospital, at 4 p.m., Nov. 19.

The Illinois office, dedicated to the diabetic community of Madison County, will offer the same services as the Greater St. Louis Affiliate: patient, public and professional education programs; diet counseling; and detection programs.

On hand for the dedication and ribbon cutting ceremonies were Alton 5th Ward Alderman Maitland Timmermeier; ADA St. Louis President-elect Harvey Carafiol; Cliff Laesch, treasurer, ADA Madison County Branch; Bev Weber, Alton Memorial Hospital and ADA Madison County education coordinator (462-7867); ADA Regional Representative Sandra Lyons; Paul Tejada, Alton Memorial Hospital administrator; and the staff of the St. Louis Affiliate.

Louis Affiliate.

Following the ceremonies there was a patient education gathering in the hospital cafeteria, providing tips on holiday menus, parties, alcohol, seasonal activities and gift lists for people with diabetes. Appetizers and punch were served.

Park to transport Christmas shoppers

The Granite City Park District will sponsor a day of Christmas shopping in downtown St. Louis Dec. 4. The first stop will be at St. Louis Centre. Cost of the trip is $5 per person. The registration deadline at the Wilson Park office is Nov. 22. Proof of residence in the district will be required.

PLANNING AHEAD are these Venice High School seniors, who are hoping to promote "substance-free" school functions after taking part in a statewide conference in Springfield. Reporting to the Venice Board of Education about the program, left to right, are Yuri Lynn Foster, senior class vice president, Mrs. Lena Rush, class sponsor, Tawanna Watts, treasurer, and Karen Mosby, class president. Thanksgiving reception Sunday at GC museum

A Thanksgiving open house is set for the Old Six Mile Historical Museum on Sunday, Nov. 24. Plans for the event — set for 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday at the museum on Maryland Road near Emert Avenue and Stratford Lane — were announced by Mrs. Georgia Engelke, Old Six Mile Historical Society president.

"Over the River and Through the Woods" will be the theme. "This time dates back to 1873, or 10 years after President Abraham Lincoln issued a national Thanksgiving proclamation on Oct. 3, 1863," she said.

"The proclamation set the date of Thanksgiving Day as the fourth Thursday in November, when the United States would give thanks to God in gratitude for blessings received in the past year.

"The Old Six Mile Historical Society has designated the fourth Sunday of November as a day for giving thanks for the blessings of the past year."

"It will be celebrated with a gathering of members and new and old friends at the Old Six Mile Museum, 3279 Maryville Road, Granite City, on Nov. 24 from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. There will be special decorations throughout the museum.

"It is our hope that this custom will be kept alive for years to come on the Sunday before Thanksgiving, when the museum will be open to greet and meet friends over a cup of coffee and a piece of mince pie or pumpkin pie."

Admission is free.

VENICE MAN, 24, SHOT IN HAND AS GUN FIRES

James Garrett, 24, of 1206 College St., Venice, was shot in good condition Nov. 20 after he was shot in the hand, apparently by a relative. No charges were filed in the incident after Garrett told police the shooting was accidental.

Garrett said the man had been drinking and threatening to kill himself. The relative later became unconscious. When Garrett tried to take the gun, he startled the relative and the gun accidentally discharged.

TWO PERSONS INJURED AT ILIAC NAMEOKI

Two persons were injured Nov. 18 when cars collided at Nameoki Road and J.I. Avenue. Yvette R. Mitalovich, 16, of 2619 Jerden Ave., one of the drivers, was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center by ambulance.

The other driver, Philip G. Denison, 18, of 339 W. Chain of Rocks Road also was injured. He was going south and Mitalovich was turning left from Nameoki onto the high school parking lot.

Mark Udell celebrated his 2nd birthday Nov. 10 at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Albridge. Mark is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Udell. Games were played, prizes were given to the children and a circus theme was used for the party.

Those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. George Udell and Angela, Pam and Richard Squires, Heather Sell, Diane Long, Robbie Long, Jerry Townsend, Pat Kolis and daughters, Christi, Tonja and Emily, Paul Williams, Cindy Accochs and Tim Albridge.

St. Margaret's Mary's Brownie Troop 852 was formally inducted in to the Girl Scout family on Tuesday, Nov. 19, at 7 p.m. The ceremony is called an investiture.

The girls are asked why they want to be Brownies and asked to say the Girl Scout promise. They then get their Brownie pins. All the parents were in attendance and cake, coffee and punch were served.

On Sunday, Nov. 17, the Little Striders soccer team celebrated its 2nd place season finish with a party at "Pantera's". The girls presented their coach, Rose Bladnick, with a plaque representing the appreciation they and their parents have for her work with the team.

The girls were given trophies provided by their parents. They are Stephanie Awalt, Jessica Bladnick, Roseanna Gordon, Christy Keller, Sangetta Kumar, Kristyn Nigeli, Emilee Rollins, Amanda White, Amanda Supp, Stephanie Brandt, Heather Mell, Briana Christel, Allison Cline and Jamie Rollis.

St. Margaret's Mary's Ladies will be having their semiannual doughnut social Sunday, Nov. 24, from 9 a.m. until 12 noon. There will be doughnuts, coffee, milk and juice on sale. Also, there will be booths set up for bazaar items, including Christmas gifts, decorations and cookbooks. The address is 1900 St. Clair Ave.

The outstanding youths this week are the Girl Scouts and Brownies who are going to be having their annual Festival of Giving. This festival is to promote giving to help others.

The girls will be performing for each other and their parents. They will be bringing baskets of food to give to the needy so they can have a nice holiday season. The festival will be held at the Granite City Township Senior Citizens Center at 2 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 24. The address is 3060 Delmar Ave. Anyone who would like to donate any canned goods may call me and I'll direct them.

New phone book features painting

An 1860 landscape featuring a stately Southern Illinois home graces the cover of the new Illinois Bell telephone directory. The Collinsville phase of the statewide distribution is slated for the next few days.

Entitled "The Home of A.E. Mills, Alton, Ill.," the painting depicts a country estate set in spacious surroundings. A bustling lady strolls up the walk leading to the house, while children frolic on the lawn and a top-hatted gentleman rides by aboard a spirited horse.

The painting, which now hangs in the Illinois State Museum in Springfield, was painted by Conrad Roeder, little-known artist who lived in Alton between 1854 and 1858," said Les Herron, Ill. Bell community relations manager for this area.

Acquired by the museum in 1971, the painting was then titled "View of an Unidentified Gentleman's Country Home, Alton." Members of the Illinois and Madison County historical societies were finally able to identify it as the home of an Alton farmer, painted the same year Abraham Lincoln was elected to his first term as U.S. president.

Ill. Bell will print more than 13 million phone books this year featuring the Alton home. The directory cover will be the same for virtually all of Illinois outside of Chicago during the 1985 directory cycle.

Inside the new directory, Customer Guide pages provide a variety of information for phone users.

Among the items are community service numbers, information on services for the disabled, money-saving tips, optional services and toll-free numbers for calling Illinois Bell service representatives.

"The guide also includes information on billing, directory assistance charges, repair, and long distance service," said Herron.

Another feature explains Market Service Areas (MSAs) which divide responsibility for long distance calls between Illinois Bell and service provided by long-distance companies.

Illinois Bell provides long-distance service within each MSA. Long-distance companies provide service across MSA boundaries.

Lesson educators should learn

The Madison teachers' strike should not have lasted 10 days. It should not have occurred.

Negotiations began in April and continued into November without a contract settlement. Both sides apparently could not agree until teachers used their, seize weapons of strike and public opinion against the administration's castle.

Teachers did not have to strike, administrators can claim. Teachers can retort there had to be a strike because the administration was unfair.

Both sides possessed determined individuals trying to get the most for their respective constituents. But, unlike one warrior beating his shield to scare the other, no one was bluffing. It took no prophet to see teachers would hold their position on grievances and the administration would try to breach it; a strike in the making.

That's what makes it remarkable that the teachers' strike occurred. The two sides, each understanding the other's resolve, managed to get into a position where a strike would happen.

Sadly, it could happen again in the next round of contract negotiations. Both sides will fight, they will come close to terms, one side will refuse to give up some precious jewel, sabres will rattle, and then there will be a strike.

Those responsible for providing this type of labor-business education should learn from the lessons they teach.

Public safety loses to politics

As we said in last week's editorial, anyone with less than Harold Mayfield's civil defense experience should not remain on the board.

Anything less would be short-changing the public. We have heard, from both sides and from some in-between, thoughts on replacing Mayfield. Based on these discussions, we conclude he was replaced without good reason.

Patronage is not a good reason.

The newly-named civil defense director has little civil defense experience and certainly far less than Mayfield.

There are those who say the civil defense directorship has never been a patronage job and should not be. They are correct.

If and when another tornado strikes Granite City, if a major chemical spill occurs as might one day happen in this area, if any number of various calamities strike that will require the quick mustering of people and equipment, it is not at all reassuring to think the person responsible for organizing efforts is a newcomer to the game.

We hope the new civil defense director learns quickly.

And that, if a new civil defense director is appointed after the next mayoral election, the new director will also learn quickly.

And the one after that.

And so on until someone holds the public safety in higher esteem than politics.

Salary decision could backfire

A poor decision was made by Granite City Township Assessor Darlene Laub.

Rather than working out differences with the Town Board, she ignored the board. The board members explained they are in salary negotiations with city employees. They said it could hurt those negotiations to give her personnel raises before the city completed its salary talks.

The Town Board members could not stop Laub from giving raises so they appealed to her to help. The appeal fell on deaf ears.

She was set on giving raises. She would not change her mind.

She backed up her employees, which is admirable, but she did so at whose expense? If you answered "the taxpayer," you're right.

If the city indeed finds its bargaining position weakened because Laub gave her township employees raises, it could mean taxpayers will be paying more for city employees' salaries.

More than that, Laub's stand upset some Town Board members. In the next budget she presents, you can bet she's going to find fewer sympathetic ears.

Jet mechanics look other way

Jetliner mechanics know better than they do.

A mechanic certified to repair an airliner knows his stuff. These days most of them come from four years in the Air Force, servicing planes, to an additional year or two of intensive schooling before they even attempt the tough FAA oral and written exams.

When any aircraft mechanic graduates with an FAA Aircraft Airframe and Powerplant Certificate, he knows his business.

But of what value is all that training if he is required to "look the other way" to shortcut line-maintenance procedures, to send crippled planes back into the sky? And yes, he does.

Federal aviation officials reported a lot of improper maintenance to individual air carriers before finally "going public" with its indictment last month.

The $1.5-million fine against American Airlines was unprecedented. It represented the government's frustration with a chronic and growing problem.

Paul Harvey

Historically, anything wrong with any planes was fixed before its next takeoff. Recently, airlines have postponed fixing things until the next scheduled maintenance period.

One DC-9 continued to make numerous flights despite reports of a malfunctioning left engine. Eventually, last July, that engine failed on takeoff.

It may not sound significant that American allowed a lavatory faucet to leak for as long as six months without fixing it, but it was leaking fluid from a lavatory which caused exterior ice which broke off from the outside of a Boeing 727 last April — ripping away an engine!

American allowed a Boeing 727 to continue flying despite repeated complaints by pilots about a malfunctioning landing gear.

Another 727 flew for weeks after its crew noted persistent vibration.

Some big DC-10s were repaired with a substitute plastic pulley instead of an aluminum wing slat pulley — until one of the plastic parts failed and a slat fell off in flight.

The FAA, after fining American, says the airline is now in complete compliance with FAA regulations. American has hired 250 additional mechanics, will hire another 250.

The public remonstrance and the fine have not gone unnoticed by other airlines; each is auditing its own maintenance program.

The problems on the ground are not readily correctable. Ground crews are under pressure to keep planes in the air and to cut costs.

Rough as that $1.5-million fine may appear, American Airlines will still profit $234 million the first half of this year.

I expect mechanics will remain under pressure to look the other way until they react.

"Oh yes, I think it will. It will be a progressive meeting. (Soviet leader) Gorbachev isn't as much of a military leader as past Soviet leaders have been."

Will the Summit really work?

Do you think it's a good idea for the two super-power leaders to be talking and do you think any substantial progress towards peace will be made?

Toys for Tots drive underway in Pontoon

To the Editor:

The 1985 Toys for Tots drive by Pontoon Beach police is now under way. We depend on the people's help in sharing and giving to this cause.

Last year, new and clean used toys were gift-wrapped and given to more than 200 boys and girls.

Children cannot understand it when Santa forgets to leave toys for them. Unselfish people can make a big difference.

Those who want toys to be picked up may call 931-3320. There will be a toy box at A&J LeRoy's Market on Pontoon Road and another at the Pontoon Beach police station where toys may be dropped off.

Have readers ever seen a child who doesn't have even one toy to play with? I have, and it breaks my heart to think about it.

It is good for people to worry about providing holiday food for children. But give a little girl a doll or a little boy a truck to play with and they will eat a piece of bread and be happy.

Dance students saddened by teacher's death

To the Editor:

For many years Jerry Green, rented the dance studio from my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Davis Nagy Sr. We were saddened to learn of her untimely death.

We are sure it will be of comfort to her family to know that she will be affectionately remembered by her many dance students and their parents. They all enjoyed her practice sessions and the dance recitals which she gave.

After the dance lessons, Jerry took time to visit with my elderly parents and called them frequently to see how they were.

Although her family was busy preparing for her funeral, her husband, son, daughter-in-law and grandchildren spent Tuesday morning visiting with and comforting my mother on the recent death of my dad. Goodbye, Jerry; we will miss you.

Long service by former store employees

To the Editor:

We are thankful to the people for honoring our informational picketing at Reese Drug Store in the Bellemore Village Shopping Center.

We have never been given a reason why we were not called back to work when the store reopened after the fire.

About two years ago, we were told the store was being sold to someone else. We were told, at the last minute before the store was to be sold, that the owner would not sell because the present employees would be out of a job.

So, he didn't sell the store. What happened to the person who wouldn't sell because he worried about his employees?

Although there will be times when we cannot be there picketing, this matter has not been settled.

These are the people who have not been recalled and their years of service:

Madge 23 years, Ruby 21½ years, Ruth 20 years, Shirley 16 years, Janice 14 years, Diana 7 years, Judy 6½ years, Glenda 6 years, Mary Lou 5 years, Jon 2 years and Robin 7½ months.

Public mandate for quality education here

To the Editor:

My fellow Granite Citizens, the overwhelming support you gave Monroe Worthen and the other successful candidates in the Nov. 5 Granite City School Board election is appreciated by many.

It is a mandate from the public for truth and quality in the educational system of our community.

People are proud of Monroe because of his dedication and contributions over the past 25 years to our school children.

He has stood tall under all kinds of pressures and situations. He is "a man for all seasons." We are proud to have him as a board member.

percent over the life of the contract.

The confusion may have occurred because the last contract provided workers with more than a 26 percent raise, he said. The average wage of union workers at the plant is $11.50 per hour, he said.

Tom DeWitt, a member of the negotiating committee, disagreed.

He said the offer made amounted to a freeze in wages. Cuts have also been suggested for some benefits, he added.

Martin said the company has not contacted union workers since the strike began.

"We are open at any time to talk, though," he said.

The contract that just expired had been a four-year agreement.

DeWitt said union members are trying to negotiate a two-year pact, while company negotiators are trying to secure another four-year contract.

Swaney said the situation is "regrettable. I hope improved communications will put an end to the strike."

Great American Smoke-Out is today

The Great American Smoke-Out is set for today, Nov. 21.

"There are more than 30 million ex-smokers in the U.S. Each had to make a hard decision, millions more need encouragement to achieve the same victory. Smoking is an expensive and destructive habit," says Susan Mary Moser, chairman of the "Quit City" Unit of the American Cancer Society.

"We can help and encourage those who want to stop. That's the aim of the Great American Smoke-Out," she added.

"There are huge benefits in quitting," the Rev. Don P. Pierson, public information officer of the local unit, said. "When you quit smoking, the body starts to repair itself almost immediately, unless damage has been done that cannot be reversed. Familiar symptoms like shortness of breath, sinus troubles, and persistent cough start to disappear.

"A smoker can add years to his or her life by quitting. It is a step that will help avoid lung cancer, emphysema, bronchitis and heart attacks as well as giving the heart and circulatory system a break.

"There are six key factors that describe many people's smoking habits. One's particular need for a cigarette will probably include stimulation, handling, relaxation, crutch, craving and habit. All of these have to be countered if the effort to quit smoking is to succeed.

"While tobacco companies have spent billions of dollars and a half-century linking smoking to the beautiful things in life, the reality is quite different. Each year, 340,000 Americans die prematurely from the effects of smoking. These are carefully documented conclusions. No major health agency questions them," he said.

The chairman concluded, "Here's your chance to quit 'cold turkey' or to make a pact with a friend to quit. Find a way to do it, but do it. Why not take this opportunity to join the almost 33 million Americans who have quit."

New meeting time for Hospice group

Hospice of Madison County's support group for family members of cancer patients has a new time and location. Starting Nov. 27, the group will meet every Wednesday from 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. in the Oncology Lounge on the fifth floor of Doctors Building (Five Doctors) at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Sessions will not be held on Christmas and New Year's, but will resume Jan. 8, 1986.

Newcomers may join at any time. Sessions are open and ongoing for families of cancer patients at any stage of the disease, not just those terminally ill, according to Barbara Spieker, 798-3488.

Open house Nov. 25 at schools in Madison

By DONNA KIMBRO
Staff writer

MADISON — All Madison schools will observe American Education Week beginning Monday, Nov. 25, and Harris School will proceed with its plans for the 25th anniversary celebration of that school on the same night.

The Board of Education last night discussed the event and said parents are invited to attend the activities and tour classrooms at all District 12 schools from 2 to 4 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. Monday.

There was no discussion on the settlement of the two-week strike by teachers. Classes resumed Tuesday.

Members of the board granted permission to the Madison Fellowship of Christian Athletes to sponsor a benefit basketball game Friday, Nov. 22, from 6:30 to 10 p.m. All proceeds will be used to provide holiday food baskets for needy families in Madison.

Board approval was given to Madison High School students who requested permission to organize a SADD Chapter (Students Against Driving Drunk).

The board also agreed to let 10 high school students attend a SADD seminar in Mascoutah Dec. 4 and to pay for their lunches. The Illinois State Board of Education will contribute to the costs and Mascoutah is to underwrite remaining expenses, Superintendent John Palchiff said.

Members of the board agreed to proclaim SADD Week on Dec. 16-20.

In other business, the board authorized Madison Band Parents to sponsor a fund-raising project.

Winter patrol volunteers are being recruited

The Rev. Larry Rice is issuing an emergency call for volunteers to help with the New Life Evangelistic Center's winter patrol.

"The growing number of homeless women, children and men sleeping outside or in cold, dark buildings throughout the greater St. Louis area dictates that we need more volunteers than ever before for this lifesaving effort," Rev. Rice said.

He asks that those concerned — who are willing to work one night a week between 9 p.m. and 1 a.m. — call the center at 1-314-421-3020 or call KMLC Television Channel 24 (which New Life Evangelistic Center owns and operates) at 1-314-436-2424.

This year, Rev. Rice hopes not only to send winter patrol teams throughout downtown St. Louis, but also through west St. Louis County and to such areas as St. Charles County, East St. Louis and Alton.

At the same time Rev. Rice issued his call for volunteers for the winter patrol, he announced the New Life Evangelistic Center will give a major Thanksgiving dinner on Nov. 28 at its 1411 Locust St. headquarters in St. Louis.

Those in need of a Thanksgiving meal for their family or for themselves are invited to attend between 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Thanksgiving. Everyone attending will receive a free blanket.

Weddings, deaths fall, births rise in October

MADISON COUNTY — There were more babies born in the county in October, while fewer people died or got married.

According to vital statistics from the Madison County clerk's office, 297 babies, including 150 males and 147 females (three sets of twins) were born last month. In October 1984, 260 births were recorded in the county.

Meanwhile, 163 deaths were recorded last month, compared to 184 in the same month a year ago.

Marriages numbered 177 in October, down from 180 in October 1984.

INJURED ON HIGHWAY 3

Michele P. Hawkins, 30, of World River was treated and then released from St. Elizabeth Medical Center Nov. 20 after a one-vehicle accident in Venice. Authorities said she apparently lost control of her car, which jumped the curb and hit a roadway marker and a post on Illinois Route 3 north of Broadway.

Funeral Tuesday for Samuel Clark, 64

Funeral services were conducted at 1 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 19, at Irwin Chapel for Funerals, 2801 Madison Ave., for Samuel E. Clark. Burial was at Sunset Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Clark, 64, of 2508 Jerden Ave. died at 5:19 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 16, 1985, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He was a retired Prairie Farms Dairy supervisor.

Drinking water in the Quad-City area is safe for consumption and does not have to be boiled, according to a spokesman at the Illinois American Water Co. office in Granite City.

Area residents noticed a different taste on Wednesday.

The spokesman said that due to the high water level of the Mississippi River because of heavy rains and flooding, more chlorine and other chemicals have been added as a precautionary measure. As soon as the water level recedes, the company will reduce the amount of chemicals.

Venice dances to benefit Tree of Lights drive

The Venice Park Board has decided to sponsor two dances, with the proceeds to go to the Salvation Army. The dance admission will be $1 and one can of food.

"The board feels that the Salvation Army does a good job of community support. By doing this, the board feels it will help needy citizens," Park Manager Arnold Johnson said.

"The recreation department will be the first two weekends in December. The United Way has served our area well and this will allow us to help a United Way agency. The money and canned goods will be turned over to the Salvation Army Tree of Lights drive on Monday, Dec. 16.

"The recreation department will be showing free movies every Monday night throughout the winter. We would like to provide recreation activities for our youth and children. The recreation department headed by Charles Collins and Dale Crawford also is working on other programs and activities," Johnson said.

The general manager was authorized to attend a hearing by the Illinois Department of Insurance on current problems in obtaining liability insurance for local governments.

Also, the board gave approval for the manager to attend a seminar Nov. 26 on the Department of Conservation summer youth employment program. The DOC will be funding up to 70 percent for programs sponsored by local governments which hire teenagers 16-18 for outdoor recreation projects.

Members of the Park Board will be attending the Illinois Association of Park Districts annual convention, seeking information concerning liability insurance and foundation grants.

County budget up, levy down

A $49.3 million budget was adopted Wednesday for Madison County government. Its fiscal year extends from December 1985 through November 1986.

Although next year's assessment totals are not yet available, officials said it is likely the county real estate tax rate will stay the same or decrease.

The Madison County Board approved a decrease in the tax levy. Appropriations are higher, aided by state funds and state and federal grants.

Six Quad-City students were accorded special honors as recipients of National Leadership and Service Awards from the United States Achievement Academy. Each one was listed in the 1985 National Awards book along with his or her picture. They all are volunteer Candy Strippers at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and were among 50 names submitted by Sister Jerome Roberts of SEMC.

Those honored included Martin S. Cooperwood and Sheri L. Wilson, both students at Madison High School, and Granite City High School students Steven Howell, Dawn McKinney, Dalene Roberts and Carolyn Cramer.

They all work at the local hospital on a schedule that is compatible with their school classes, and each received a certificate.

DUI WARRANT IS SERVED

Loretta A. Brooks, 35, Allen, was arrested Nov. 15 at the Alton Police Department on a Granite City warrant alleging failure to appear on a charge of driving under the influence of alcohol.

APARTMENT IS ENTERED

Nothing was immediately determined to be missing from the apartment of April Castile, 4906 Kirkpatrick Homes, where a break-in occurred Nov. 15.

STEREO SPEAKERS TAKEN

William Conklin, 247 Benton St., said Nov. 18 someone broke into his parked auto and took two stereo speakers.

JEWELRY, RADIO MISSING

A burglar looted the trunk of a 1975 auto belonging to Fred Fields, 1812a State St., and stole a black suitcase containing rings, watches and necklaces Nov. 15. A scanner radio also was missing from the trunk, which was damaged by the thief.

Weber seeks dismissal of lawsuit by insurance firm

EDWARDSVILLE — Former Madison County state's attorney Don W. Weber has moved for dismissal of a lawsuit filed by an insurance company.

The firm seeks a ruling that it is not responsible for coverage for any damages in another suit filed against Weber and the county by Susan Jensen.

IN OTHER PLEADINGS newly filed, Weber seeks a change of venue and appointment of an out-of-county judge.

And he seeks the appointment of a special prosecutor to represent the county's interests in the complicated legal matter.

Jensen, now an assistant state's attorney under State's Attorney Dick Allen, alleged in her lawsuit she was wrongfully fired by Weber because of differences between Weber and her husband, who was also an assistant state's attorney under Weber.

SHE WAS REHired by Allen after Allen defeated Weber in the November 1984 election.

Weber, Susan Jensen and the county are defendants in the lawsuit filed by the Governmental Interinsurance Exchange. Weber contends the insurance company is obligated to defend against her lawsuit.

He says the insurance company's suit is premature and any finding regarding her allegations would be premature and an abuse of discretion by the court.

IN SEEKING an out-of-county judge, Weber alleges some county judges are under investigation by the Illinois Judicial Inquiry Board for alleged misconduct related to the removal in 1984 of Weber's office from an investigation of property tax assessments in the county.

Weber made similar allegations in August in a response to Susan Jensen's lawsuit against him.

"No judge in Madison County can fairly and impartially hear a case which involves the honesty and integrity of other judges of the same circuit, or which questions the good faith of judges," Weber says in the pleading. In addition, he says all of the judges are potential witnesses in the case.

WEBER CONTENTS Jensen, by virtue of her position, is well known by all of the circuit and associate judges of the county.

In his motion for a special prosecutor, Weber says Allen's office cannot represent the county because the office employs the plaintiff, Susan Jensen.

Also, he says, most of Allen's current staff will be called as witnesses in the case, so the office cannot properly defend the county.

WEBER ADDS that she is represented by the Mudge, Riley and Lucco law firm of Edwardsville.

Because this is so, he argues, a special prosecutor should be appointed to represent the county in all matters — civil, administrative or criminal — in which the Mudge, Riley and Lucco firm is involved.

Arts and crafts show in region

Many area crafters will be returning to participate in the fifth annual Arts and Crafts Show organized and presented by Kay Weber. It will be held Nov. 30 and Dec. 1 at the Belle-Craft Exposition Building in Belleville.

Most of the 400 exhibitors will be returning from last year.

Some of the returning exhibits include dolls and doll clothes, teddy bears, miniatures, a large selection of wheat weaving and pottery, clothing items of all kinds, tile painting, ceramics, flower and pine cone arrangements, home-made cookies and candy, Christmas decorations, candles, furniture, toys and trunks.

New to the show will be a man from Huntsville, Ala., who makes $50 hammock chairs, a couple who mold Bavarian art wax ornaments, fur coats, China doll head ornaments, sheepskin duster and hand mitts, hand crafted knives, a mother and daughter who applique sweat-shirts, and a husband and wife who use the Egyptian art of preserving flowers in sand.

The show is set for Saturday, Nov. 30, and Sunday, Dec. 1, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. It will be held in the exposition building at Routes 13 and 159 in Belleville. Parking and admission are free.

Training for cities, towns on funds, mandates

The third in a series of statewide local government training seminars is scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 23, in Collinsville, according to State Comptroller Roland W. Burris.

The seminar will be held at the Hilton Inn from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Sponsored by the Board of Governors of State Colleges and Universities, Governors State University and the Office of the Comptroller, the seminar will present latest information on reporting requirements, new directions in accounting practices, investment opportunities, state mandates, and the law and local officials. Recently-enacted laws affecting local government financial management will also be analyzed.

Officials and staff from cities, villages, counties, townships and special districts are being encouraged to attend.

The registration fee is $30 per person and includes workshop materials and lunch, according to Gary Koch, Office of the Comptroller, 1-217-782-2052, and Beverly Goldberg, Governors State University, 1-312-534-5000.

Coal exports to Asia seen

Opportunities for Illinois to export substantial quantities of coal to the Orient appear to be extremely good, according to Don Etchison, director of the Illinois Department of Energy and Natural Resources (IDNR).

Etchison expressed optimism about major sales of Illinois coal upon his return this week from a trade mission to Korea and Japan. Heretofore, only small quantities of Illinois coal have been exported to the Far East.

Etchison and ENR Coal Programs Manager Terri Moreland conducted many meetings and discussions with Japanese and Korean business leaders during the mission.

"We told them Illinois has plenty of bituminous coal, a good work force to mine it, and an excellent transportation system for shipping," Etchison said. "We also informed them Illinois has good supplies of energy necessary for industrial development and that Illinois is a good place to invest."

At present both Korea and Japan are importing substantial amounts of coal for industrial and utility purposes.

"The strong dollar has hurt our exports, and that includes coal," Etchison said. "But with the strong push to increase exports to reduce our trade deficit with Asian countries — and a reduction in the value of the dollar — there are good possibilities for increasing coal sales if we are creative and aggressive in pursuing them."

In addition to meeting with companies interested in coal, Etchison and Moreland met in Tokyo with Hiromi Gotoh, executive vice president of Chiyoda Chemical Engineering and Construction Co. Ltd. "The meeting with Mr. Gotoh was most productive," Etchison said. "The department has a $6 million contract with Chiyoda for a highly advanced demonstration scrubber system under construction at the University of Illinois' power plant, which is being converted from natural gas to coal."

Dry bulk terminals at Port to be expanded

By CAROL PATTERSON
The scope of Dean Wurth's structural engineering contract was expanded at Monday night's Tri-City Regional Port District board meeting.

The addition of $6,800 is for engineering work which will be done at the Bulk Service Corporation's Dry Bulk Terminal 1.

The facilities will provide more efficient transportation and storage of fertilizer and other dry bulk items, officials said.

Two new storage domes, a conveyor, a truck-rail loading facility and a truck-rail receiving facility are the structures called for in the latest design proposal.

The original contract with Dean Wurth covered $10,000 worth of engineering work done at BSC's Dry Bulk Terminal 2, for which the designs are complete.

"After the engineering work is complete, and approved by the EDA (Economic Development Agency), we will advertise to take bids on construction. We'll probably begin to take bids in early to mid-December," said Jerry F. Lavelle, port engineer.

EDA grant money would cover half of the cost for engineering and construction work up to $600,000. The remainder would be paid with funds raised from issuance of bonds, Lavelle said.

Lucas runs for Congress

Ronald P. "Rink" Lucas, Madison County recorder of deeds, has announced he is a candidate for Congress in the 21st District Democratic primary.

"I feel that my 24 years' experience as a public servant in local and county government has given me the perspectives and the abilities to serve the people in the 21st District," Lucas said.

"My candidacy is in no way meant to be a criticism of the honorable incumbent. His past performance and record serve as a standard of excellence that his successor will be challenged to match."

"I feel I can meet that challenge, and, therefore, am offering myself as an alternative to the voters of this district."

Lucas, 45, was first elected to office as a trustee in the Village of Maryville when he was 21. He later served 21 years as mayor and has been Madison County recorder since 1972. He was re-elected to his fourth term as recorder in 1984.

The 21st Congressional District includes all of Madison and Bond counties, most of St. Clair County and parts of Montgomery and Clinton counties. The present congressman is Melvin Price.

Prostitution now can be a felony

Legislators have overridden Gov. James Thompson's veto of a bill to impose tougher criminal penalties on prostitutes, their agents and their customers.

The Senate voted 58-0 to override the governor's veto of the legislation imposing a Class 3 felony (one to three years in prison) for a third and subsequent conviction of prostitution, soliciting for or keeping a place of prostitution, or patronizing a prostitute.

Those were only misdemeanor offenses, regardless of the number of convictions, under the previous law. The House had earlier overridden the governor on a 90-17 vote.

The action by both chambers of the General Assembly makes the tougher penalties a law.

The governor in his veto message said because "prostitution is a non-violent offense which does not involve loss of property" it did not justify a felony classification.

Annual model train gathering Saturday

St. Louis Area Model Railroaders of the Mid-Continent Region, National Model Railroad Association, will hold their annual one-day meet at the Viking Lodge, 10709 Highway 366 (Lindbergh and Watson), St. Louis, Saturday, Nov. 23, from 8:30 a.m. till 9 p.m.

The meet will feature a model contest, photo contest, clinics, swap meet, layout tours, switching contest, videos, manufacturers' displays, prizes, merit award judging, and socializing. Registration at the door is $10.

MAN ARRESTED AFTER WINDOW IS SHATTERED

Denver Lee Stamps, 24, of Grand Avenue was charged Nov. 16 with criminal damage to property.

Granite City police alleged he broke a large plate glass window at the Grand Cafe, 1413 20th St.

BURGLAR ENTERS FIRM

A burglar removed a window and entered the office and shop of Truckers' Supply, 1801 Benton St., Nov. 18. It was not immediately determined what was taken.

General honored

Hartigan assails Thompson record

Attorney General Neil Hartigan lashed out at Gov. James Thompson Saturday night during his keynote address at the annual Madison County Democratic Committee's JFK champagne dance.

Hartigan called Thompson "a Vaudeville act." He also told the partisan crowd of 750 gathered at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Granite City that Thompson was "afraid to say anything offensive" to the current federal administration.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL cited alleged shortcomings in the governor's leadership, including 4,000 fewer farms in Illinois, the loss of key manufacturers, and cuts in education monies.

"Jim Thompson has cut education seven of the last eight years," Hartigan told the Democratic faithful who paid $25 each to attend the dinner dance. He also said tax dollars pay for 64 percent of the beds in Illinois nursing homes.

Hartigan said the state office building built in Chicago was $100 million over budget and riddled with deficiencies.

WHAT ILLINOIS NEEDS, according to Hartigan, is sound economic planning. "Build Illinois is a joke," he said, referring to Thompson's efforts to improve the Illinois economy and infrastructure. "It should be Rebuild Illinois."

The attorney general said people can see what can be done to spur economic growth by looking at what has been done in St. Louis.

Referring to his recent withdrawal from the race with Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, Hartigan said there was no bargain struck between him and Stevenson.

"WHAT JIM Thompson wanted was for Adlai Stevenson and me to rip ourselves apart."

Hartigan said that, during his travels throughout Illinois, he learned that people didn't want that to happen.

He said people told him Stevenson, who narrowly lost the last gubernatorial election, should be given another chance.

STEVENSON was unable to attend because of another commitment. Hartigan read a Stevenson telegram in which the former U.S. senator expressed his regret at being unable to attend the dinner.

Hartigan's speech was well received. He received a standing ovation before and after it.

Regional banking with 6 other states voted

Gov. James R. Thompson has commended members of the General Assembly, which adjourned Nov. 14, for passage of interstate banking legislation.

"This is an important step for the Illinois banking industry," in the opinion of Thompson.

"WITH PASSAGE of this legislation, banking in this state and throughout the Midwest can more effectively move into the 21st Century."

"I applaud the efforts of members of the General Assembly who worked so hard to accomplish this. Not only will the bill modernize Illinois' banking laws, it will benefit consumers and spur economic development."

Senate Bill 525 will allow regional banking on a reciprocal basis with six Midwestern states, including Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Michigan, Missouri and Wisconsin.

IT ELIMINATES the five existing banking regions in Illinois, which have limited multibank holding companies to acquisitions within their region and one contiguous region.

"The legislation also provides components for consumer protection and services," Thompson said. Among the consumer components are free checking without a minimum balance for senior citizens and full disclosure of all fees, interest rates and any other conditions associated with accounts.

THE BILL REQUIRES all banks and savings and loans to file community reinvestment statements, and imposes clearance deadlines for checks.

Banks must also maintain capital to assets ratio of 7 percent to participate in acquisitions under provisions of SB 525.

Thompson sent a letter to legislators Oct. 29 to urge passage. He said, "The business of banking is undergoing unprecedented change."

"WHILE WE CANNOT predict what this future will look like in 10 years' time, we should not sit idly by while change is forced upon us. If we forego this opportunity to shape the banking industry in a way that will benefit Illinois citizens, the result may not be one that we like."

Bill 525 will take effect on July 1, 1986.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Sometimes women obtain a divorce without being awarded child support. This may happen because the whereabouts of the husband is unknown at the time of the dissolution, or because he is not working when the marriage is dissolved. The question that sometimes arises in these cases is whether she can seek reimbursement several years later for her support of the minor children if the ex-husband is located and found to be employed.

The argument normally made by the mother in these situations is that she has had to raise the children without any financial help from the former spouse. Because of this, she will normally assert that it is only fair that she be reimbursed for a portion of these expenses. The former husband, on the other hand, often insists that it was not his fault that the Court did not award support at the time of the divorce, and that to order support in a lump sum retroactively would work a financial hardship on him.

In a recent case, the husband and wife were divorced in 1971, and she was awarded custody of the two minor children. The Court did not grant her child support at this time since she had been unable to have him personally served with the divorce papers and his whereabouts was unknown.

For twelve years, the mother struggled to provide for the children. During this time, the former husband provided no child support voluntarily. The mother never made an attempt to take him back to Court to assess support in these years, mainly because the ex-husband moved from place to place and because she felt it would be futile. In 1983, after reading an article about a woman in similar circumstances who obtained a late judgment of support, the mother took her ex-husband back to Court to obtain past support and future support.

The former husband here argued that to order him to come up with a lump sum for back support this many years later would work a hardship on him. He noted that she could have pursued support earlier since she could have located him. He felt this delay should prevent her from getting a contribution for moneys she had already expended. The Appellate Court disagreed, and found that a mother in this situation could pursue an action for past support and that she should be reimbursed.

Special Education parents' group seeking new members

GRANITE CITY — Additional members are being sought by Parents for Special Education, a not-for-profit organization interested in education and recreation for handicapped children and adults.

There are no dues and no membership obligations. Parents of special education students are being encouraged to meet with the group on the third Tuesday of each month at 7 p.m. at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road.

The group discusses common problems and plans activities for children. "We have community support; now we are asking for more support from parents," a spokesman said.

President is Carolyn Smoot, 931-2943.

Bowling is held every Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at Bowland. Any age student is welcome. Bus pickup is at the Press-Record office at 1:15, and the return is at about 3:30 p.m. Cost for three games including shoes is $1.65. There will be no bowling on the Thanksgiving weekend.

Monthly dances are held on the second Friday of each month at the Venice Recreation Center from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m.; the donation is $1. Students 14 and older may attend.

and live music is provided by Howard Bollen. Transportation may be arranged by calling Kay Hahn, 451-9832.

Basketball practice for boys 18 and over is held every Thursday from 4 to 6 p.m. at the R & C Hall, Old Alton Road, sponsored by the Association for Retarded Citizens.

A pizza party was held in cooperation with Pantera's Pizza and the Ellettsville clowns.

Zoning hearing to consider billboards

MADISON COUNTY — A request for a variance to erect billboards will be considered by the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals Monday, Dec. 2.

The board will meet at 9:25 a.m. at the Clonko family residence on Chouteau Island to consider the request of Dale Dickey Signs. From the residence, the board will proceed to the designated areas.

Dale Dickey wants a variance to erect billboards, 20 by 80 feet, which exceeds the maximum of 300 square feet allowable under the ordinance. He also wants the billboards to be 35 feet tall, which exceeds the 30-foot maximum allowable under the ordinance.

He wants another variance to allow him to erect the billboards in a designated flood area in Chouteau Township. The property is located in an agricultural district along the banks of the Mississippi River.

The board will meet at 9 a.m. that day to consider a request from Leo Sloan, owner, for a special use permit. He wants to construct a house in a B-3 highway business district in Chouteau Township. The property is on St. Thomas Road south of Chain of Rocks Road.

An on-site hearing at 10:15 a.m. Dec. 2 will concern a request from Richard Childers, owner, and Rose Ann Bulva, occupant, for a special use permit to continue the use of a mobile home in an R-4 single-family residential district in Nameki Township. The address is 2006 Collinsville Ave. in the Cloverleaf Addition near Madison.

Circuit Court gaining on felony case backlog

Although October was a busy month for the Third Circuit Court (Madison and Bond counties), the court made a gain on large cases, according to Court Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell.

During October, he noted in his report to the Supreme Court administrator's office, 1,892 cases were filed and 1,994 were terminated by the court.

"Although there was a termination of 135 divorce cases, there was a heaving filing of 186. The most significant gain was in the felony division, where 49 cases were filed, five reinstated, 11 reduced and 56 terminated for a considerable gain," Portell said.

"The only significant loss of a fairly large amount (in keeping pace with the caseload) was traffic and ordinance violations, which can be gained back without too much trouble," he noted.

Chief Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick has concentrated on the felony and large law division, which contributed to the improvement in those divisions, Portell said.

Following are the numbers of each major type of case filed, terminated and pending at the end of October:

Cases	Filed	Terminated	Pending
Law cases seeking more than $15,000	41	67	1866
Jury	1	1	85
Non-jury	66	29	665
Law cases seeking $1,000 to $15,000	3	18	232
Jury	3	18	232
Non-jury	64	20	506
Other cases	24	33	392
Chancery	45	36	291
Miscellaneous Remedy	1	1	85
Eminent Domain	34	37	4
Mental Health	186	135	1076
Divorce	140	103	2327
Family	49	62	482
Juvenile	49	96	339
Felony	400	444	3425
Misdemeanor	563	562	2210
Small Claims	1,656	1,643	13,900

In the traffic division, 3,823 new cases were filed during October and 12,987 were terminated, the report shows.

Of the 107 felony cases heard during the month, 74 persons were convicted of felonies, one was acquitted by the court, 12 were dismissed or transferred, nine were dismissed or consolidated and one was reduced or a plea was negotiated.

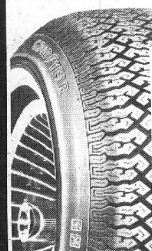

Guilty pleas during October included four for Class X felonies, four for Class 1 felonies, 17 for Class 2 felonies, 25 for Class 3 felonies and 24 for Class 4 felonies.

Felony sentences during the month included 30 persons sent to prisons, 16 receiving probation or conditional discharge with periodic imprisonment, and 28 receiving probation or conditional discharge with other discretionary conditions.

A lesson
in courage

Courage in the sports arena takes many forms. It might be a high school athlete fighting off an injury to compete in his favorite sport.

Or it might be a team of underdogs going head-to-head with a mighty team and battling them on even terms, even if it turns out to be a loss.

But there are other forms of courage; not to mention the ability to overcome a shocking dose of adversity and forging ahead. Although these types of stories can be found often in high school sports, we can't forget that professional athletes, for all the money they make, are human beings, too.

The case in point here is the Philadelphia Flyers hockey team. The Flyers have been one of the better teams in the National Hockey League over the past 15 years, winning two Stanley Cups.

But they have not often been looked at with great admiration or respect. Instead, they were for a long time known as the "Broad Street Bullies," a team which literally fought its way to the title.

But what they have done — and what they have gone through — in the past two weeks simply can't be ignored. They split their first four games and have been to roll. The wins piled up. Six, seven, eight in a row. Then, on Nov. 9, a win over the Boston Bruins was their 10th straight win, just five short of the all-time NHL record.

The Saturday night win over the tough Bruins was one to celebrate, and several players did just that, returning to one of their favorite suburban New Jersey watering holes.

One of the players was goaltender Pelle Lindbergh. The Vezina Trophy winner last year, meaning he was the finest goalie in the league, Lindbergh was the backbone that anchored the Flyers. Were it not for a knee injury he suffered in the Stanley Cup Finals, they might have upset the Edmonton Oilers and won the Cup last year.

Lindbergh drank. Then he drank some more. Finally, at 5:30 a.m. Sunday, he headed home in his Porsche. He never made it. He drove the car into a stone wall and when rescuers found him, they said his body was wrapped up like a pretzel.

Lindbergh was pronounced brain dead a few hours later and life-support systems were disconnected Tuesday, Nov. 12. Several of his vital organs were donated so that others might live.

Hopefully, the tragic story might open some eyes about the incompatibility of drinking and driving.

But the story doesn't end there. Nobody would have blamed the Flyers if they had flattered in their grief and lost their next couple of games. I mean, they had a lot of things on their minds and their No. 1 goalie was permanently unavailable.

Their first game after the tragedy was last Thursday against the Oilers, the most fear-some bunch of shooters since Jesse James' gang. But after a pre-game memorial service for their goaltender, the Flyers, with rookie Darren Jensen in goal, stopped Wayne Gretzky and company, 5-3, Philadelphia's 11th straight win.

OK, emotion might have carried them that night. It was "win one for Pelle." But they won two more games over the weekend before losing Tuesday to the New York Islanders. The 13-game winning streak was only two shy of the all-time mark set in 1982 by, ironically, the Islanders.

Coming that close to an all-time league record is one thing. Doing it shortly after your teammate and friend, one of the key players on your team, is tragically taken away forever, is quite another.

The Philadelphia Flyers showed us all how to cope with adversity. Here's hoping they can meet the Oilers in May and win it all.

Not so much for Lindbergh, but for themselves. They deserve it.

GCC Stars romp
past S-B IndiansBy JAMES BLASINGAME
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City Campus roundballers kept Sanford Brown Business College in the red all evening during the Stars' season opener on Tuesday night.

The Stars had gained a 42-21 share by the intermission and continued their monopoly on the hoops market throughout the contest, as GCC defeated the overmatched Indians, 86-46.

Except for a 5-4 GCC margin in the opening minutes, Sanford was never close. The Indians connected on just eight of 32 attempts from the floor in the first half, while the Stars scored inside, outside and on the fast break.

"You can't win very many games with that kind of shooting (25 percent)," said Indians Coach John Campbell. "But I guess that's a little tribute to their (the Stars) defense. They're a better ball club than they were last year."

True, the Stars are a better team than they were one year ago. But in all fairness, Sanford didn't really provide much of a test for GCC. The Indians rent a church gymnasium for their once-a-week practices, and at this early stage in the season, they still lack a few of the basics.

"We'd play them (the Stars) closer in the second half of the season," Campbell said. "Until we learn the (offensive) plays completely, we're going to have a few mechanical breakdowns."

While the game with Sanford didn't reveal any startling weaknesses in the GCC attack, it did give Stars Coach Terry Collins a chance to see his team in a game situation.

"We played good," he said. "We didn't play great. We've got a lot of improvement to do. We played at our level right now — the level I figured we would be, considering our practices."

"The thing that stands out most is that they had two good guards, and our two guards, (Reggie) Mullens and (Al) Johnson, did a good job defensively. And (Jeff) Gray did the job when he was in there, too. That was pleasing."

There is one other important factor that became glaringly apparent during the rout on Tuesday.

The Stars are blessed with squad depth — "quality depth," as Collins put it.

Remember when you were a kid, and your Little League coach said that everyone on the team was going to get to play — no matter what the score or situation? You knew he was doing it just to be nice. It was kind of like team insurance — the coach had to play everybody to make certain the players were content enough to want to stay on the squad.

Sure, the substitutions meant that some of the better players had to ride the bench. But it was necessary for the good of the team.

Well, after losing several players last season, Collins had to be cornered about Stars falling off of this year's team. And when he stated matter-of-factly that all of the GCC members would see action during the 1985-86 campaign, it brought back shades of Little League.

But not for long.

Against the Indians, all nine of the Stars got on the scoreboard, and all of them contributed to the victory.

"I wasn't blowing smoke or anything," Collins said in reference to the depth factor. "They're ALL going to play."

"That may be a key for us. The

'Whitaker's era' begins in '85 season

By DAVE WHALEY
Staff writer

Who knows what it's like to have a season of high school wrestling in Granite City without Bill Schmitt at the helm?

Who has to be at least 40 years old to remember such a thing. But a new era had to start sometime, and the 1985-86 season is the beginning of that new era.

The Walt Whitaker era.

Whitaker takes over as the head coach at Granite City High School this year. He was Schmitt's assistant the past two years and before that was the head coach at Granite City North High School.

He may have a hard time matching Schmitt's accomplishments, but who wouldn't? Sending wrestlers to the state meet in each of 38 years of coaching plus a slough of regional and sectional titles are the things legends are made of.

But Whitaker has a good blend of youth and experience working for him, so look for the Warriors to have another competitive squad of matmen.

In the 98-pound weight class is Brent Davis, a freshman.

"Brent's a pretty tough kid from what we've seen of him," Whitaker said. "This season will be a learning experience for him and we'll see if he can handle it. I think he'll make a good account of himself."

The 105-pounder is sophomore Richard Similie. Rich Wilson, one of three Warriors who went to the state meet at Champaign last Feb. 23, (along with departed seniors Jeff Colter and Steve Knott) moves up from the 105-pound class to 112 pounds. The other 112-pounder is Scott Moss, a sophomore.

"Scott wrestled a little on the varsity squad last year," Whitaker said. "He's a tough kid and we're looking for good things from him."

In the 119-pound class is senior Gary Mann, who was in the 112-pound class last season. Moving up to 126 pounds, the Warriors have Brett Garner, a senior letterman.

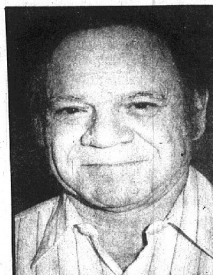

"Garner is a guy we're looking to this year," Whitaker said. "I think he will do a real good job."

Tracy Morrison, who fought in the 112- and 119-pound classes last year, moves up to the 132-pound ranks.

Following him is freshman Chuck Sparks, at 138 pounds.

"All of our freshmen wrestled all through the summer," Whitaker said. "It looks like they are all real tough and I'm sure they will make a respectable showing for us."

Dennis Gabriel, a senior who transferred to Granite City this year from Triad, will wrestle in the 145-pound class.

"He's got some experience and comes to us with a good record," Whitaker said. "He wrestled into the sectionals last year for Triad."

Senior Tom Sparks, who went to the state meet as a sophomore in 1984, will represent the Warriors at 155 pounds. Letterman Mike Fenoglio, an all-conference football player for the Warriors this year, will fill the bill at 167 pounds.

Whitaker said he was fortunate to have some depth at 185 pounds because two of his wrestlers experienced injury problems before the season got under way. Mike Lynch, a junior, will "take up the slack" there.

"He's got some varsity experience, so we're lucky to have some depth there," Whitaker said.

Tracy McElroy suffered torn ligaments in his knee during the football season and could miss the entire season. And Chris Greer, who fought in the heavyweight class last season, suffered an ankle injury two weeks ago in practice, although Whitaker expects him back as early as next week.

The Warriors are well-stocked at the heavyweight level with Ross Karbarski, a 260-pound sophomore, and Dan Lienemann, a 250-pound senior who was another all-conference football player on offensive tackle.

There's more "beef" available, but Whitaker won't be able to use it much this year, if at all.

"They have a new limit this year of 275 pounds," he said. "We have a couple of kids up around the 300-pound mark who won't be able to go yet."

That large twosome includes David Karmayer and Tom Richmond, but don't expect to see much of them this season.

"We'll take our time with them," Whitaker said. "There's no sense in trying to get them trimmed down too fast. They're both juniors and we might wait until next year with them."

Whitaker looks at Belleville East as the toughest team in the area, "simply because they have all of their people coming back." The Warriors edged the Lancers, 29-20, in the Granite City Sectional last year.

"Roxana is always tough, too, of course," Whitaker said. "And I look for East St. Louis and Cahokia to have fine teams this year. So although we might be pretty good, we'll have our hands full with the teams in this area."

Whitaker's goal?

"We want to get back to the sectionals and get another crack at Springfield Southeast," he said. "They were the ones who knocked us out of team competition last year, so we're gunning for them this year."

If that can be done, Whitaker will continue to carve his niche deeper into Granite City wrestling annals. Maybe as deep as Schmitt's.

Kickers given honors at banquet

By GREGG OCHOA
Executive Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — It was a musical evening of sorts Wednesday night at the high school cafeteria as Granite City's soccer players were honored.

The GC Booster Club held its third, and final, fall sports banquet, as letters, numerals and certificates were doled out to local athletes.

The musical theme started with a rendition of "Happy Birthday" for Warrior Coach Gene Baker. Baker, himself, used a Johnny Mercer tune as the foundation of his presentation.

"What we want to do is 'Accentuate the Positive and Eliminate the Negative,'" Baker said.

Despite being ousted from the regionals, the soccer Warriors put together a fine season (16-4-4), battled back from some key injuries and hung tough.

The rewards for some of the seniors still await as college recruiters and Baker keep in contact. Last year, all of the 12 seniors went to college. This year is no different.

"It's amazing, the interest," said Baker. Granite City's biggest salesmen.

Among the colleges that have shown some interest in Warrior players are: Clemson; the Air Force Academy; St. Mary's; Western Illinois; West Point; Reitz State in Dayton, Ohio; the University of South Carolina; and the University of Missouri at Rolla.

And the list goes on and on.

Granite City's reputation, and Baker's, has reached around the nation. For example, the Tournament of Champions was a smorgasbord for college scouts.

The Warriors' championship record and winning tradition has also been a drawing card for colleges.

Baker said he hopes the underclass will continue its dedication.

"The seniors have helped sustain the program," Baker said. "We (Granite City) are reaping the benefits of some others who were hungry and deserving. We, and you as sophomores and juniors, must sustain that."

The Granite City program, as Baker describes it, is for each athlete to perform up to his capability but also to mature as a person.

"We have a security blanket in this program," Baker said. "You work hard and the program will take care of you."

The Warriors took care of things on the field, winning the Southwestern Conference championship and, ironically, beating the two teams (Collinsville and Quincy Notre Dame) which qualified for the state finals.

"We had a fine season playing a quality schedule," Baker said. "It was a tough year and they held up well. This team's discipline and sportsmanship should be commended."

In all, 21 juniors and seniors were recognized. Junior varsity team members, who finished at 12-3 under coach Mel Bunting, also were cited for their efforts. In addition, the freshman team was also honored. The freshmen coach was Dave Ames.

Baker stressed continuity, urging his players to continue to refine their skills and use the techniques taught this year. He also emphasized the use of weights and told the underclass to "play as much as you players have to realize that they're only going to play 20 or 25 minutes. They've got to learn their time is limited, so they've really got to go after it."

Collins pointed out the Stars have strong reserves in every position but one, the point. But that spot, too, will be filled.

"Especially if we get DeLloyd

(Williams) back," Collins said. "We need him. That's the one place that we're not deep. He's got to get back and get practicing."

Williams, last year's playmaker for the Madison High squad that made it to the state quarterfinals, is the Stars' missing link. He has missed several weeks of practice after a freak accident in which he was pricked with a pencil while playing blacktop basketball. But "Boog" should return to the Stars by the end of this week.

The Stars next game is Saturday at home against Lincolnland College. Tipoff is 7:30 p.m.

GCC wrestlers looking to make a little noise

By GARY KING
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City Campus wrestling program has undergone a thorough metamorphosis since last season.

The Stars have been given a chance to do what many programs can only dream of: they've received an opportunity to clean the slate and start from scratch.

Due to changes in the coaching staff and the loss of wrestlers from last season, the Stars have a completely new set of personnel to work with this year.

Norm Dahm, an assistant coach at SIUE last season, has been chosen to fill the head coaching spot vacated by Walt Whitaker. Whitaker, who guided the Stars to a 2-7 mark last year, accepted the head coaching job at Granite City High School after the retirement of Bill Schmitt.

Knowing that he needed quality wrestlers to fill the spots vacated by last year's departures, Dahm hit the recruiting trail after being named head coach in April. With hard work and perseverance he was able to land top prospects from around the state.

Included in the list of recruits are Tim Allgire, a 126-pound transfer student from Illinois State University; Jim Deeke, a 134-pounder from Belleville West; Vance Smith, a 167-pounder from Rock Island; and Doug Hankins, a heavyweight from Effingham. All the above, except Deeke, were state qualifiers in high school.

Dahm's most long-distant recruit thus far is Eric Ruffa, a 185-pound wrestler from Dallas, Texas. Ruffa finished second in the Texas state tournament last year at 155 pounds.

Locally, Dahm was able to snatch Jeff Cotter and Greg Nemeth. Cotter, who will wrestle at 118 pounds, finished sixth in last year's state tournament. Nemeth, who will wrestle at 142 pounds, was a four-year varsity starter in high school and qualified for state in 1983 as a member of the Granite City North squad.

Although the team is young and inexperienced on the college level, Dahm has high hopes for this season. He thinks there is enough talent on the team to compensate for the overabundance of youth.

"It's hard to know what to expect from this team because these guys are all young and inexperienced at the college level," Dahm said. "I do know that we've got a lot of talent here. Most of these guys were state qualifiers in high school and could be college All-Americans if they keep working at it."

"So far they've all worked really hard and shown a lot of team spirit. We haven't really set any team goals. We just want to go out and make some noise this season."

The injury bug has already reared its ugly head at the Stars, as several of the grapplers have experienced pre-season setbacks.

Cotter and Nemeth are both nursing ankle injuries, while several others have fallen victim to the flu. While Dahm views the injuries and illnesses as "nothing serious," he thinks his healthy wrestlers will have to be at their best to help lighten the load.

"We're down to 10 guys now, so every match will be important to us," he said. "We can't afford to give anything away. We're going to need a good performance out of our healthy kids if we expect to win."

While Dahm would like nothing more than to see his young Stars get a taste of success, he thinks it's more important that win or lose — his matmen use the experience they gain to help them down the road.

"All we're really trying to do is get these kids ready academically and athletically for a four-year school," Dahm said. "If we do that, then we've been successful."

Behind the strong recruiting year and the youthful vivacity on the squad, Dahm forecasts that the wrestling program is well on its way to success at Granite City Center.

"We're finally at the point, where we can go somewhere with this program," said Dahm.

So, if you hear some strange sounds coming from GCC this winter, don't worry. It will just be those young Stars wrestlers making some noise.

Banquet

can, not only the indoor game, but also outdoors."

Before the four special awards were passed out, Baker singled out two seniors who were batters this year.

"We never sing the blues in the papers about injuries," Baker said. "We don't like to use that as an excuse. But we had our share."

Stopper Brett Scrum played all year despite being weak from sickness.

Forward Dennis Gaudreault came back from a severely damaged leg that still has pins and a plate in it. His recovery was slow, but by the end of the season Gaudreault was playing strong.

"Not once did he complain or use (injury) as an excuse," Baker said.

Baker himself was slowed by an injury and he said that hurt his team.

"I couldn't demonstrate (ball handling)," he said. "It cost us time. It took us too much to translate what I wanted through drills."

Three sophomores saw varsity time last season. They included Brett Broadwater and goalie Matt Krekovich.

Nine juniors were honored, among them were Dave DeRousse, Todd Adamitis, Mike Konuch, Jeff Grote, Brett Bjorkman and Scott Strack. All-State goalie Terry Dutko, a candidate for All-America status, was named the team's most valuable player.

Scott Blason, another all-state selection, was named the team's top defensive player.

Jeff Zukas, the team's leading scorer, was voted the Warriors' top offensive player.

Junior Steve Becker was named the team's most improved player.

In all, 12 seniors were honored. They included: Joe Gray, Jim Chomko, Joe Perigan, Doug Partney, Jim Patien, Craig Patton, Gary Sikora, Dutko, Blason, Gaudreault, Zukas and Scrum.

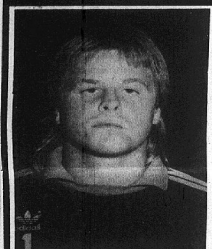

BELLEVILLE AREA COLLEGE GRANITE CITY CAMPUS ATHLETE of the WEEK

JEFF LANTZ

Jeff Lantz has been named Athlete of the Week for November 11-17 at the Granite City Campus. Jeff was chosen to the First Team, All Region Soccer Team of the NJCAA.

Lantz, a starter in goal for most of his two years at Granite City Campus, has earned high praise from opposing coaches for his competitive fire and hustling style of play. Jeff was involved in seven shutouts this year, helping to establish a school record.

Lantz, a sophomore, is a graduate of Southeast High School in Springfield, Illinois.

Elizabeth Hartman and Eugene Warnecke
Hartman-Warnecke

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence T. Hartman of Glen Carbon, formerly of Granite City, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Eugene Warnecke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Warnecke of Highland.

Miss Hartman will be a May graduate of Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, where she is majoring in accounting. Warnecke also will graduate in May, from the University of Illinois. He is majoring in electrical engineering. Wedding plans are being made for October 1986.

Mr. and Mrs. David White

White-Hickam

Teresa M. Hickam and David B. White were married Oct. 19 at the Church of God, 1205 W. Pontoon Road, by Pastor Tom Edwards.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip C. Hickam of Granite City and the groom is the son of Charles A. White Jr. of Granite City and of Mrs. Roberta A. Breitenstein of Waterloo.

The maid of honor was Lori L. Detwiler and the bridesmaids were Roxanna M. White, a sister of the groom, and Patricia A. Schutzenhofer.

The best man was Clayton R. Dickerson of Troy, Ill., a brother-in-law of the groom. Groomsmen were Phillip A. Hickam, a brother of the bride, and Ron Coleman.

The flower girl was Brandi A. Dickerson, a niece of the groom, and the ringbearer was P. Joshua Hickam, a nephew of the bride.

Ushers were Tony Mabry, Tracy Hickam, Joe Hickam and John Schneck.

A reception was held at Engelbert Hall in Madison.

After a wedding trip to Branson, Mo., the couple is residing at 2435a Delmar Ave.

The bride is employed by Processors-Industrial Credit Union of Granite City and the groom is employed by Boatmen's National Bank of St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Meyer

Meyer-Mikolaszuk

Paula Sue Mikolaszuk, daughter of Vera and Joe Mikolaszuk of Edwardsville, formerly of Madison, and Brian Robert Meyer, son of Kay and Robert Meyer of Edwardsville, were married at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Madison, on Sept. 27 by the Rev. Roger Simpson.

Lori Volrab was maid of honor and Steve Meyer was best man. Everett Klocke and Mike Meyer served as ushers.

A reception was held at the Holiday Inn, Edwardsville.

The bride and groom are both graduates of Edwardsville High School. She is employed by Keller Companies and he is employed by Sievers Auto Body.

They are residing in Edwardsville.

Pack 122 cubs receive awards

Cub Pack 122 of Wilson School held its first meeting of the year last week. A flag presentation was provided by Den Two and a skit was given. Receiving Bobcat badges were Danny Smith, Paul Pulaski, John Valle, Shane Roy, Allen Shepard, Ryan Stigman and Jeff Pittman.

Cub Scouts in Den Three who earned their Bobcat badges were Matt Giles, Tim Grant and Chris Hartman. Den One followed with an Indian dance and greeted the audience. Bobcat badges were awarded to Karl Bischoff, Marshall Converse and Darrell Johnson, and John Janson received a one-year pin.

Den Four was presented with Webelos colors as its induction. Brian Cave, Mike Lipchik and Jason Sharp received two-year pins, with the following given one-year pins: Brad Burschwal, Jason Kass, Jimmy McMillan and Steve Keelin.

A treasury report was given by Pam Bischoff and a popcorn sale report was given by Joe Howard. Recognition was accorded den leaders and committee members.

The closing ceremony was by Den Three. All cubs participated in a living circle and gave the Cub Scout promise, followed by refreshments provided by Den One.

Newspapers 'lead' Bible

The Old Testament contains about 5,800 different words and the New Testament about 4,800. The average daily newspaper today contains about 6,000 different words.

1 Corinthians 3:7... "So then neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase."

We certainly can't miss the meaning Paul is trying to convey to us in this Scripture reading. First of all do not begin to minimize your importance to God! You are not insignificant in His sight. It is important that you be faithful and committed to His will. He will make your efforts count. You simply plant and water and He takes care of the results.

When we maintain the proper attitude about our service to Him, then He is sure to receive the glory. God gives the increase. And this is the message that comes across to us. And to the world.

Do your part. Today.

HANGING PLANTS provided by members of the Garden Study Club were displayed at a meeting hosted by Helen Mih. They participated in a discussion on the various species. Norma Crenshaw conducted the session and reviewed a tour of Grafton. The nature drive ended at the clubhouse of Lucille Korinek for a light fry.

A dessert course was served by the hostess to those named and Clara Winter, Catherine Kostoff, Mary Storum, Margaret Huessman and Mrs. C.E. Eads.

ST. ANN'S ALTAR SOCIETY of St. Joseph Catholic Church elected Ann Pieper president, Anna Mokri vice president and Margaret Minzes secretary-treasurer at a monthly meeting.

The group enjoyed a Thanksgiving potluck dinner preceding the meeting and a new member, Madeleine Villotte, was welcomed.

Plans for a Christmas bazaar were finalized for Dec. 1 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the church basement. Holiday craft items, desserts and other food items will be available.

The yule banquet for members is set for Dec. 10 at 6:30 p.m. and reservations are to be made with the president.

Sister Patricia Perdue, ASC, who took her final vows recently at the Mother House Chapel in Roma, Ill., will be honored at St. Joseph Church on Sunday, Nov. 24, after the 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. Masses. Refreshments will be served. She is the daughter of Marjorie Perdue, Granite City, and the late James Perdue.

R.C. BUSH, executive vice president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, was guest speaker at a monthly meeting of the Willing Workers of America. The group met at the YMCA.

Bush said the Chamber is trying to attract firms to locate on potential business sites to build up the community. He added that, in order to link training with job opportunities, there must be jobs available for those already trained.

Sam Wolf, state representative, will be the featured speaker at the Nov. 23 meeting at the "Y" at 10 a.m.

A DONATION was sent to the Department of Illinois Living Memorial Scholarship Fund, in memory of the late Maud Lewis, by members of Aunt Becky Young Tent 92, Daughters of Union Veterans.

The charter was draped for two deceased past presidents, Jeanette Kraus and Mrs. Lewis.

Bessie Seifold, president, conducted the session at Ervay's Restaurant.

Hostess for the day, Evelyn Ringering, directed the games and awarded a prize to Louise Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. James Harris
Harris-DeMaris

Angela Marie DeMaris and James Darryel Harris were married Aug. 10 at Bethesda Baptist Church by the Rev. Luther Abbott.

The bride is the daughter of Rick and Ann DeMaris of Granite City and the groom is the son of Mrs. Barb Curtis and Ray Harris, both of Granite City.

The maid of honor was Judy Hustedt and the bridesmaids were Michele McCord and Heather Benson, a cousin of the bride.

The best man was Billy Fithen and the groomsmen were Gaylon Harris, brother of the groom, and Joey Wallace, a cousin of the groom.

The flower girl was Amanda Harris, a niece of the groom, and the ring bearer was Chad Crabtree, a cousin of the bride.

Ushers were Dewey Ward and Doug Husky.

A reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

After a wedding trip to Tennessee, the couple is residing on Buxton Avenue.

The bride is a 1984 graduate of Granite City High School and is employed by Fast Freddy's of Granite City as a beautician.

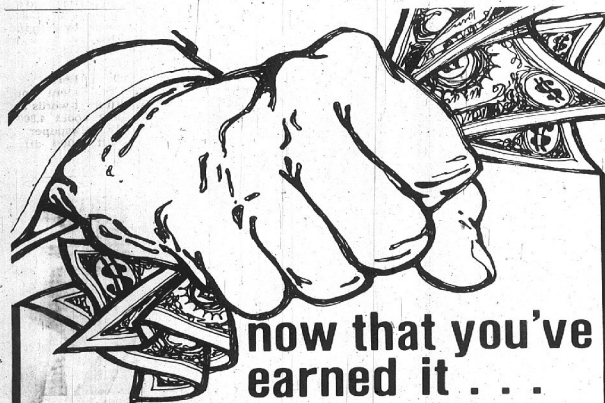

The groom, a 1981 graduate of Granite City High School, is employed by Don Reed Chevrolet of St. Louis as a service man.

Delray hosts district meet

Delray Rebekah Lodge 786 of Madison was host lodge for the fall session of Rebekah District Association 26.

The meeting was opened by President Lillian Husson of Godfrey. An election and installation of district officers for the new year was conducted.

Those elected and installed were Daisy Burnett of the host lodge, president, Hazel Wheeler, Granite City, vice president, Betty Applegate, Granite City, secretary, and Oma South, Edwardsville, treasurer.

The lodge hall was decorated in yellow and white, the new president's chosen colors. Refreshments were served.

Among those present were Ethel Price of Dorchester, vice president of the Rebekah State Assembly of Illinois, and past Assembly presidents Gwen Mini, Collinsville, Mary Fairley, Roberts, Mary Smith, Fairbury, and Jimmie Braun, Lebanon.

Other guests were from Granite City, Collinsville, Alton, Lebanon, Troy, Brighton, Greenville, Gillespie and Washington, D.C. Escorts for the installation were Betty Barnett, Edith Carpenter, Pearl Wood, Rose Lawrence, Laura Lawrence and Irene Dawes.

As Daisy Burnett was installed, the soloist, June Branding, sang "One Day At A Time" accompanied by Agnes Meng, musician.

The soloist sang "Prayer is the Key to Heaven" to Wheeler, "It Is No Secret" to Applegate and "Welcome to Our World" to South. Dec. 10 will be the new district officers' first official visit to Delray will be Dec. 10, when a reception will honor the new president.

All Rebekah members are invited to attend the meeting, the president said.

Church Events

Union Thanksgiving service for three congregations

A Union Thanksgiving Service of the congregations of the Madison United Methodist Church, the First Baptist Church of Madison and the Temple Baptist Church will be conducted Wednesday, Nov. 27, at 7 p.m.

The service will be held in Temple Baptist Church, 1900 Harris St., Madison. The Thanksgiving message will be given by the Rev. Vernon Brown, pastor of the United Methodist Church, and special singing will be provided by the host church.

A time of fellowship and refreshments will be held following the service. An offering will be received for "Meals on Wheels," and the public is invited to attend, Rev. Brown said.

Bell tower structure to be installed Friday

A 26-foot octagonal superstructure that will serve to rebuild the bell tower at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, 2101 Cleveland Blvd., will be hoisted to the top of the church Friday, Nov. 22.

Becker and Flowers, architects of St. Louis, designed the octagonal unit and Norman Soechtig is the builder. Soechtig is a grandson of one of the founding families of the church, and Walmer Brummer, an elder in the church, is coordinating all of the efforts.

Approximately six feet of the present brickwork will be taken down and the structure, sheathed with copper-lead, will increase the tower's height by another 26 feet to the top of the gold cross.

Work on the project was done at Granite Sheet Metal Works and the structure, weighing 2½ tons, will be put in place by a crane on Friday.

Dedication is planned for Dec. 1, with the festival service to begin inside the church and conclude on the outside of the building.

The Rev. Ronald E. Petersen, the new pastor, arrived here Nov. 17 and will officiate.

St. Peter Church was organized in 1901 and the present building was dedicated in 1908. The sanctuary was enlarged in 1926 and an educational wing was added in 1957.

A 1923 storm destroyed the steeple and a flat-design bell tower was built. This served until late 1983, when the tower was struck by lightning, prompting a rebuilding project expected to cost $55,000.

Preceptor Delta Xi marks first year

Preceptor Delta Xi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi celebrated its first anniversary at the home of Tammy Lane. The chapter was reminded of a ritual of jewels to be held Nov. 25 at Ravan's Restaurant.

Plans are being made for a Christmas party at the Ramada Inn in Alton Dec. 14.

The hostess gave each member a lollipop announcing a blessed event and Cookie Grooms was given a crystal wedding plate. Janet Monaghan presented a program on "How to Buy a Telephone."

Attending were Cathi Barker, Donna Barker, Judy Bartel, Jane Carbone, Anastasia Elieff, Karen

Gray, Vicki Thomas and those named.

At a previous meeting it was announced Cookie White and Larry Grooms were married Oct. 22 in Las Vegas, Nev.

Those who attended a come-as-you-are breakfast included Cathi Barker, Donna Barker, Judy Bartel, Jane Carbone, Karen Gray, Cookie White, Tammy Lane, Vicki Thomas and Candy Thompson.

Members and guests also visited a haunted house in St. Louis.

KARATE TEAM MEMBER from Baptist Bible College will be one of the guests Sunday at Central Baptist Church, 3940 Highway 111. The karate students will perform during the 10 a.m. service.

Rally Day guests at Central Baptist

The Karate Team from Baptist Bible College will be featured on Rally Day, Sunday, Nov. 24, at 10 a.m. at Central Baptist Church, 3940 Highway 111.

Team members have won more than 80 national titles since 1978. They are members of the American Taekwondo Association. The team travels thousands of miles to perform at schools, churches, colleges and community groups each year, according to the Rev. Wayne Musatics, host pastor.

Demonstrations utilize humor, art, board breaking, brick breaking and other physical skills, accenting the forms and techniques of Taekwondo and its benefits. Physically, mentally and spiritually, audiences are encouraged to seek positive alternatives to life's problems, the minister said.

The evening service at 7 will include deacon ordination. Old Fashioned Day will be observed Dec. 1.

The public is being invited and admission is free.

VFW Post 1300 hosts 12th District meeting

VFW Post 1300 and Auxiliary hosted the 12th District meeting this month, beginning with a Saturday night staff dinner and dance.

A Sunday breakfast was served prior to a Veterans Day parade and placing of a wreath at the City Hall of Granite City.

After the lunch hour, a movie was shown by making of license plates in Illinois by handicapped people. Gold Star parents were accorded special honors by Joan Davis, district chairman.

Presiding at the business segment was 12th District Auxiliary President Eleanor Damm. She introduced guests, Mrs. Juanita Barry of District 15 of Cairo, Del. Gjersten of the 4th District in Parkridge, and Carolyn Gorin, national assistant conductress and past state president of Litchfield.

Among the reports was one on Americanism and the president urged all present to send Christmas cards to POW-MIA families no later than Dec. 1.

Shirley Brenner spoke on a visit she made to the Eaton Rapids National Home for Children and noted that furniture is needed for some homes.

Young gave a report on a trip to Our Lady of Snows in Belleville and another to the Alton Mental Health Center. She reviewed plans for a Christmas party set for Dec. 12. The district historian, Pauline Skyrack, discussed procedures for writing the history of each group and also spoke on the president's school of instruction.

A Light-A-Bike program was held the following week at the home of Carolyn Weston, safety chairman.

The project is co-sponsored by the VFW Post and Auxiliary. Assistants Weston were Rose Dowdy, Conna Willard and Mrs. Charles Dowdy.

Volunteers attached reflector tape to the bicycles of Billy Joe and Michael Barry and Charles, Kimberly and Michael Gilbert.

PORCELAIN ORNAMENTS are just one example of the many holiday gifts and decorative crafts which will be on display at the Granite City Park District's annual "Christmas Gift Ideas Festival." These hand-painted ornaments were made by Evelyn Huffman of St. Louis.

COUNTRY WOOD CRAFTS by Vi Kruse (left) and Sonja Hallway of Mt. Olive are always popular. The pair will bring items such as duck decoys, chairs, benches, carousel horses and sleds to the Christmas Gift Ideas Festival in Granite City this year.

JO ANN TERRELL of Granite City will display her original paintings at the festival Nov. 23 at the Harold Brown Recreation Center.

Christmas Gift Festival Nov. 23

GRANITE CITY — The Park District will hold its annual "Christmas Gift Ideas Festival" on Saturday, Nov. 23, at the Harold Brown Recreation Center, Franklin and Amos avenues. Doors will be open to the public from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Fifty-six exhibitors from Illinois and Missouri will display and sell many unusual handcrafted items.

Some crafts which are new to the Christmas show include: appliqued sweatshirts, Swiss wafers and ethnic pastries, welded metal planters (bicycles, race cars, wheelbarrows), rag rugs, "critter quilts," window shade pulls.

Also, child nap rugs, hand-painted porcelain ornaments, wind socks, carved glass items, personalized pictures and cards, wooden trivets, shoe bronzing, cookbook holders, wooden carousel horses and machine-knitted vests.

The show is free to the public and is designed to display and sell crafts, gifts, decorations and other ideas with an emphasis on Christmas.

A park district spokesman said, "It's an excellent time for Christmas shopping and for new ideas that could be useful in church bazaars or club projects."

Judy Streif was the hostess at a meeting of Precceptor Beta Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. President Marilyn Lumpkins led the opening ritual.

Betty Beck, ways and means chairman, reported on several successful fund projects.

Linda Koenig discussed the Missouri state convention held in Cape Girardeau Nov. 1-3, attended by 600 Beta Sigma Phis, 20 being from Illinois. Jack Ross of the international office presented the Saturday forum and the Sunday address. Attending with Koenig were Lumpkins and Carol Cathey.

The program for the evening was conducted by Barbara Hente, who spoke on "Exercises to do while sitting at your desk." All members participated in head, arm and foot exercises which can be done at work or at home when only a small amount of time is available. These exercises relieve stress and relaxing movements during the daily routine, she said.

The next meeting will be a pilgrim party at the Hente home Nov. 24. Others attending were Roberta Crawford, Judy Broshov, Vickie Barth, B.J. Jones, Carol Cathey and Jogn Pritchard.

Volunteers sought for area study

Researchers at the Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis need patients with multiple sclerosis (MS) as participants in a study of an immune suppressive drug that may help victims of the disease.

Volunteers will be enrolled in the study through Dec. 9. The research, which began in 1984, examines use of Cyclosporine A as a treatment for MS.

Washington U. is one of nine American universities conducting such studies, sponsored by Sandoz Inc. The local study is headed by John Trotter, M.D., director of the MS clinic and associate professor of neurology and neurological surgery at the School of Medicine.

MS is believed to be an autoimmune disease, Trotter says. Immune suppressive drugs — critical to successful organ transplantation — have been helpful in treating progressive cases of MS, he notes, but cannot be used routinely because of potentially severe side effects.

Cyclosporine A — a relatively new immunosuppressant — has been proven to be more effective, with fewer and reversible side effects, than other drugs used for transplant patients, Trotter says. For that reason, it is being studied for its safety and effectiveness as a treatment for MS.

Patients will have blood tests and vital signs taken each month, with a formal examination by a neurologist and therapist every two months. Also, participants will be asked to have a spinal tap at the beginning and end of the trial. All testing will be conducted at the Clinical Research Center at the School of Medicine.

MS patients who have been treated with the immunosuppressive drug Cytoxan may not enter the trial. Participants must be off all immunosuppressive drugs for two months before they begin the study, and cannot begin taking other immunosuppressants during the trial.

Because the study is placebo controlled, not all patients will receive Cyclosporine A, Trotter says. If the drug is proven effective, however, all participants will receive it free until it gains federal approval as treatment for MS.

Further information about the MS study is available through Trotter at the Department of Neurology, 1-312-362-3293.

Elna Hoover to study state's older women

Elna Hoover, a regional advocate of the elderly in Granite City, has accepted membership on the Task Force on the Status of Older Women in Illinois.

The announcement was made by Director Janet S. Ottwell of the Illinois Department on Aging and Chairman Willard C. Rasmussen of the Illinois Council on Aging.

"We are pleased that Elna Hoover has agreed to be a part of this important group," said Ottwell. "Over the next few months, she and the other 23 members of the task force will examine major concerns which make it difficult to grow older as a woman than as a man."

"The needs of older women deserve particular attention for a number of reasons. First, women represent 63 percent of our 65-plus population."

"In addition, women are more likely than men to live in or near poverty; there are more women with low incomes who live alone; women are less likely to have adequate Social Security and pension benefits; women live longer than men; thus intensifying their health needs; and women are more likely to be caregivers for older parents and spouses," Ottwell said.

According to Ottwell, the Illinois Council on Aging, the advisory group to the Illinois Department on Aging, will be taking the lead in coordinating the task force.

"The Council on Aging has asked the task force to focus on problems and needs relating to economic security, housing and health care," said Rasmussen.

"These issues will be examined from the experiences of single, married, rural, urban, widowed, minority, and ethnic women over 65 years of age in Illinois."

Rasmussen said task force members will hold public hearings and community roundtables where health care providers, city officials, women's groups, social service agencies and elderly individuals can provide testimony on problems relating to the status of older women.

The task force will then submit a final report and recommendations to the governor, the Department of Aging, the General Assembly, Illinois Congressional delegation and interested groups.

The timetables for these actions will be:

Early December, public hearing in Chicago.

January, public hearing in Springfield.

January-March, community roundtable meetings in different areas of the state.

May (Older Americans Month) final report submitted to the governor.

"Not only do we want to increase public awareness of some of the major concerns faced by elderly women, we want to learn more about some of the real people out there who are suffering as a result of these problems," said Ottwell.

Resident enjoys AOJ program

Barbara Owens of Granite City proves big things sometimes come in small packages.

The 5-foot-8-inch, 120-pound Owens was not content with the day-to-day routine of a housewife. She decided she wanted a career. But not just any career.

"I wasn't interested in nursing or in teaching. I always liked police stories so I became a security officer and bouncer," she said. Owens has worked Friday and Saturday nights for the past two years at The Animal House, a St. Louis entertainment establishment catering to 15- to 20-year-olds.

But she wasn't satisfied in stopping there. To advance her skills, Owens enrolled in the Administration of Justice program at Belleville Area College's Granite City Campus.

The biggest break of Owens' young career came last spring when Ron Selph, an AOJ instructor and lieutenant on the Granite City Police Department, helped her receive a semester internship at the Madison County Probation and Court Services in Edwardsville. That helped Owens set a new goal to become a probation officer.

Her petite stature, wide smile and pleasant voice don't make her a likely candidate to handle either security or probationary work. However, she is driven by a desire to succeed and has a lot of family support from her husband, Robert, and two children, Roh, 17, and Tasha, 13.

"I'm able to hold my ground. I don't act afraid. I just go right in. I've even broken up fights and, in two years, no one has ever struck me," Owens said.

After the internship, Owens was ready to volunteer her services to the probation office when she was offered a full-time job there, she said. She accepted without hesitating.

Her work toward an associate degree at Granite City Campus has been slowed because of her husband's various assignments in the U.S. Army. However, she will complete her degree and then earn a now.

bachelor's degree, which is required for her to reach her goal as a probation officer, she said.

"With my training (at GCC), it will be easy to go into a probation officer's job," Owens added.

As a probation officer, her duties will include analyzing probationers, placing each probationer in school or in a job, and making sure the probationer has no violations with the police she said.

At present, she wears a number of hats for the probation office — secretary, dispatcher, and operator of the facts machine containing FBI statistics.

"It's exciting. It's a challenge. It's not monotonous," Owens said. "It's something new everyday. I wouldn't have thought to volunteer if I didn't love it."

Owens credited her success to BAC and William Ogden, her intern supervisor at the probation office. "I feel great about it (the AOJ program)," she said. "If it wasn't for BAC, I would not have had any opportunities and without those opportunities, I wouldn't have a job now."

"It's a great program. It's 100 percent helpful to students."

Since her husband will be stationed in the Granite City area for at least another year, Owens will have the opportunity to complete the few credits she lacks for her degree.

BRAVE DONOR. Arlinda Boyd of Edwardsville bravely volunteers as nursing student David Aldridge of Granite City demonstrates how to perform blood sugar tests. The mini-seminar occurred during Preview Day at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. In the background are nursing students Mary Sheurer of Lebanon and Kelly O'Brien of Wood River.

SUI at Edwardsville

THE UNIVERSITY CENTER Print and Design Shop at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is accepting applications for booth space for the Christmas Arts and Crafts Fair to be held Dec. 2 and 3. The fair will be held from 10 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. each day.

Duane Schaefer, coordinator for the fair, said all types of hand-crafted goods will be considered, including those constructed from clay, fiber and fabric, wood, metal, glass, leather, graphics, photography and painting. All items must be original works produced by the artist or craftsman. For additional information, the SIUE University Center Print and Design Shop can be called at 1-692-2178.

REGISTRATION FOR THE WINTER QUARTER at SIUE is now underway. Students who will be attending the university for the first time this winter are being asked to complete their applications for admission and seek admission as soon as possible.

Winter quarter at SIUE begins Saturday, Jan. 4, with Week End University classes. Weekday classes begin the following Monday, Jan. 6. Additional information on degree programs, schedules, admission policies, applications and registration procedures may be obtained at 1-692-2860.

Belleville Area College

LAURI LOCKWOOD OF GRANITE CITY, a student at Belleville Area College, will be included in the new edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges. Students are selected on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential. Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934.

THERE WILL NOT BE a 6 p.m. ASSET placement and orientation program at Belleville Area College's Belleville Campus on Wednesday, Nov. 27, because of the Thanksgiving holiday.

Granite City Campus

PAT NORTH, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville academic adviser, will visit Belleville Area College's Granite City Campus two days in December to meet with students. North will be at the Granite City Campus from 4 to 7 p.m. Monday, Dec. 2, and from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 12.

North will talk with students interested in transferring to SIUE and those desiring general transfer advisement. Students are asked to make appointments at 15-minute intervals in the campus' main office.

BAC instructor to grow 'space' tomatoes

Charlie Giedeman will be able to brag next year that he can make a bacon, lettuce and tomato sandwich that is out of this world. Literally.

Giedeman, coordinator of the horticulture program at Belleville Area College, was instrumental in the college's selection as one of 50 higher education institutions to receive tomato seeds that will spend two years in a satellite in space.

Giedeman sent a written request for BAC to become a testing site to the George Park Seed Co., Greenwood, S.C., which co-sponsored the project with NASA (National Aeronautics and Space Administration).

The seeds were to return from space and be delivered to BAC by the end of the year, Giedeman said. Financial reasons have forced NASA to leave the seeds and the satellite in space until next June.

That will be beneficial to BAC. BAC is constructing a solar-heated greenhouse. With its completion, BAC will be one of very few institutions to conduct tests in such a facility.

"The delay with the seeds is a setback but if it gives you more possibilities, it's not a setback at all," Giedeman said. "This is something that would be unique to BAC. Not many other people have such a facility."

Giedeman said he has not been informed on the types of testing to be done with the tomato seeds.

"I'm sure there will be some universal and individual testing, watching genetic changes, how weightlessness affects germination and how radiation may alter the mutations," he added.

Ordinary seeds also will be used to grow tomatoes at BAC to compare sizes, yields and, possibly, tastes of the tomatoes from the space seeds.

If there is a taste test, Giedeman said, "I can't wait to taste a tomato that's been in space," he said.

The testings will be conducted by many of the students enrolled in BAC's horticulture program and will create a unique learning experience, Giedeman said.

"I'd like to involve as many students as possible in the project," he added. "It will give them a better appreciation of understanding a problem with several possible results." Data from all testings will be compiled and sent to the Park Company, which will formulate and condense statistics from all participating institutions.

Giedeman remains optimistic about possible findings from the tests.

"I hope we will find a cheaper way to make new types of hybrids. I hope we can come up with something different, something that will benefit mankind," he said.

Seminar to help college-bound students

The nation's leading test educator now offers a college selection seminar in addition to its famous SAT preparation program.

Designed by certified guidance counselors and admissions officers, "Pathway To College" is a four-hour seminar that provides college-bound high school students hands-on experience with applications, essays and interview situations. Participants review information on the college admissions process, selection criteria, and financial aid programs.

Available at more than 120 locations nationwide, the new seminar will be offered to high school juniors and seniors for a $95 tuition fee.

Parents or students interested in learning more about "Pathway To College" are invited to call 1-314-977-7791.

Scholarships offered to minorities

Application for scholarship funds for minority students who wish to study engineering at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville must be submitted by Nov. 25, according to Sandra Wesley, Minority Engineering Program director for the School of Engineering.

"Funds ranging from $250 to $2,500 will be awarded," Wesley said. "They are coming from a block grant from the National Action Council for Minorities in Engineering. We urge all interested to submit applications as early as possible."

It is expected that six scholarships will be given, based on other academic qualifications or need or both. They will be available to entering freshmen with an interest in engineering, presently attending sophomores, or transfer students.

For further information, interested persons may contact Sandra Wesley, SIUE School of Engineering, Box 1275, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026-1275 or by calling 1-692-2590.

Mosquito footprint now can be weighed.

A new force transducer is said to be the first commercially available device capable of measuring very fast, ultralow-force phenomena such as the bursting of bubbles in a glass of champagne. This unit can measure forces as feeble as 1 milligram.

Another unit can measure forces of 1 microgram and thus, says the manufacturer, Cambridge Technology Inc., "can easily measure the landing of a minute snowflake or the footprint of a mosquito."

Art exhibit shows off drawings of teachers

The Student Committee for Visual Arts at Belleville Area College is sponsoring an art exhibit through Friday, Dec. 13, in the second floor gallery at the Belleville Campus.

The exhibit, "Artists Who Teach in Our Schools," opened Nov. 13 and features works of several high school art instructors in the BAC district, said Paula Russell, secretary of the committee.

"The purpose of the exhibit is to show BAC art students what types of art work are done in the area," Russell said.

Art being displayed includes sculptures, paintings, drawings and multi-media, she added.

The public is invited to see the exhibit.

Chemical safety law requires prior plans

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency on Nov. 18 applauded a move by the United States Environmental Protection Agency to assist local communities in preventing health-threatening chemical leaks. But it also noted it is well ahead of the federal action.

The assistance will be provided in developing or enhancing emergency preparedness and response plans for substances most likely to cause serious health effects from short-term, high-level airborne exposure.

"The IEPA believes this voluntary program is primarily oriented for states without laws that require contingency planning."

"OUR CHEMICAL SAFETY ACT, signed this fall by Gov. James R. Thompson, is more comprehensive than the program suggested by the USEPA. A good example of the differences between the plans is their ability to be enforced," said IEPA Director Richard J. Carlson.

"The federal program is completely voluntary, but the Chemical Safety Act requires that companies engage in contingency planning to protect the public."

"Also, the USEPA program deals only with atmospheric releases. Besides air releases, the Chemical Safety Act requires planning for in-soil and in-water releases."

According to the Chemical Safety Act, selected businesses in Illinois which deal with and produce certain chemicals will be required to submit emergency response plans and other information that may be needed during a chemical leak that would threaten the public.

THE STATE LAW is a result of findings by a Chemical Safety Task Force created by the state in December 1984 after the Union Carbide plant accident that killed thousands of residents of Bhopal, India.

"The Task Force served the state well by addressing, in a timely fashion, the complex issue of preparedness for chemical emergencies," Thompson said, adding, "The bill is a positive step toward enhanced preparedness on the part of both public organizations and businesses in Illinois."

While he approved the Act, he also said a number of concerns were raised by various groups during consideration of the legislation and during Task Force debate of the plan.

"Accordingly, I will direct the Task Force to continue its activities this fall and winter by developing refinements for this law to resolve those concerns and build on what has been accomplished," he said.

UNDER THE MEASURE, the Illinois EPA and the Illinois Emergency Services and Disaster Agency will review chemical safety response plans that must be prepared by July 1, 1986. Those plans will include a variety of information that would be needed in the event of a chemical leak, such as:

- A listing of chemicals that could be released at a facility.
- A description of the chemical's storage and use.
- Information on possible routes of any sudden or unexpected chemical leaks.
- Response and notification procedures.
- A designated emergency coordinator at the facility.
- Emergency equipment on hand at the facility.

$1 million for industrial park roads and utilities

The Illinois General Assembly on Nov. 14 authorized $1 million to install roads and utilities for a high-technology industrial park on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The measure, part of a supplemental appropriations joint House-Senate Conference Committee report, involved a swap of previously authorized money for an Edwardsville area highway.

An appropriation of $1.5 million sought last spring by Sen. Sam Vadala, D-Edwardsville, for the project was deleted from the final list of projects in the "Build Illinois" program.

BUT UNDER A BILL approved by the Senate and then by the House, $1 million would be provided for the project.

In exchange, the same amount earlier included in Build Illinois for the South Bypass highway project, connecting Route 157 and Route 159 south of Edwardsville, was removed.

Vadala, D-Edwardsville, said the Illinois Department of Transportation said it could not use the $1 million for the road project because it needed a commitment of another $4.5 million to put it under contract.

Work could start on putting in roads and utilities for the SIUE "University Park" with the $1 million, however, Vadala said IDOT had no objection to transfer of the $1 million.

VADALABENE SAID he would seek the remaining $500,000 early next spring to complete the "infrastructure" for the industrial park.

TARPAULINS, TIRES TAKEN
Mark Shouls of Maryville, Mo., told Madison County authorities someone took tarpaulins, tires and wheels from his pickup truck while it was parked at Ray's Truck Plaza on Illinois Route 3 here Nov. 19. The items are valued at $1,180.

ITEMS WORTH $2,149 TAKEN
Lloyd Cook of 200 Voight Place, Mitchell, reported items valued at a total of $2,149 were taken from his home by a burglar after 11 p.m. Nov. 18. Taken were guns, stereo equipment and jewelry.

Dixon in race, backs Donnewald

U.S. Sen. Alan Dixon, D-Ill., vowed Nov. 18 to fight any effort by Democratic Party slatemakers to "dump" his close friend, incumbent State Treasurer James Donnewald. Both seek re-election.

Dixon said he was "temporarily withholding" his endorsement of Adlai Stevenson III for governor. Stevenson has said the treasurer's office is one that should be "open" for slatemakers.

Dixon said he will back Donnewald in any decision he makes and that Donnewald told him he definitely plans to seek re-election and will run in the primary, regardless of whether endorsed by the party central committee next Monday.

THE SENATOR SAID he plans to give any help Donnewald needed. "My daddy always said don't trade in an old friend for a new one," he quipped.

The Donnewald issue dominated Dixon's press conference Monday formally announcing his own candidacy for re-election.

Aides to Stevenson are reportedly worried Donnewald could hurt the ticket because of the publicity over his frequent trips to his home in Florida.

Donnewald, from Breese, is a millionaire lawyer and beer distributor who was named state treasurer four years ago in recognition of his 22 years in the Illinois Senate.

DIXON EMPHASIZED he thought Stevenson would make an "excellent governor" and he expected to support all the Democratic candidates nominated by voters in the primary. But Democratic slatemaking is "just a bunch of politicians rapping together," Dixon said.

He added that only twice had Democratic state officeholders who were incumbents not been endorsed by the party organization when they sought re-election. Gov. Henry Horner in 1936 and Gov. Dan Walker in 1976 (Walker, however, had spurned the party organization both times he ran for governor).

On his own re-election campaign, Dixon said he did not regard himself as a shoo-in and "I take nothing for granted."

TYPICALLY, he described all the prospective Republican challengers, which so far include state Rep. Judy Koehler (the only announced one so far), state Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis, former U.S. Rep. Tom Corcoran and Lt. Gov. George Ryan, as "strong candidates."

Dixon said he hoped to raise at least $4 million for his campaign.

He listed his efforts to stop wasteful military spending, particularly the canceling of the inoperative Sgt. York anti-aircraft gun, opening up military procurement practices, sponsoring legislation vetoed by President Reagan to advance crop loan payments to farmers, and getting the Illinois Congressional delegation together on a regular basis on state issues, as among his achievements.

He described himself as a "political moderate" and said his policy has been to reject extremes and pursue "common sense, achievable goals."

DIXON SAID HE HOPES to become a part of the Senate leadership if Democrats take control of the Senate.

Dixon, 58, defeated fellow Belleville native Dave O'Neal by 619,000 votes to be elected to the U.S. Senate in 1980, capping what was already then 30 years in political office, starting with election as a police magistrate when he was 22 and still in law school.

Dixon was in the Illinois legislature for 20 years before being elected treasurer and then secretary of state.

He has won 27 consecutive elections.
